Welcome (welcome back) to the University of Florida School of Art and Art History (SA+AH).

The faculty and staff of the College of The Arts (COTA) are here to encourage your artistic, academic, and personal growth through classroom courses, individual study, and related activities.

The SA+AH Graduate Student Handbook contains information specific to the School of Art + Art History. Information contained herein supplements information in the UF Graduate Catalog, which may be found at <http://gradcatalog.ufl.edu/>. Please refer to these documents for requirements and procedural information.

The UF Graduate Catalog governs your study. It is your responsibility to become informed and to observe all regulations and procedures required by the program you are pursuing. You must be familiar with those sections of the UF Graduate Catalog that outline general regulations and requirements, specific degree program requirements, and the offerings and requirements of the SA+AH. Ignorance of a rule does not constitute a basis for waiving that rule. The Dean of the Graduate School must approve any exceptions to the policies stated in the Graduate Catalog.

You must also be familiar with and abide by deadlines and policies in the UF Graduate Student Handbook, published by the UF Graduate School. Additional SA+AH Supplementary handbooks include:

- Health & Safety Handbook
- Studio GTA Resources can be located in eLearning course “Studio Art GPS”

UF SA+AH Graduate Office

The SA+H office is here to assist you navigate your graduate studies. As everyone in the advising office also holds research, teaching and service appointments, please respect the time they have set aside to work with you and make every effort to communicate effectively with them. This includes following up on critical e-mails, announcements, and elearning procedures in a timely fashion. The office will not be responsible for lack of responsibility by any student.

GatorLink / GatorMail

GatorLink is a computer account that allows access to a variety of campus computing services. Every student, faculty and staff member is expected to have a GatorLink account. Some free services are available to students, faculty and staff.

- UF faculty, staff and students receive the following services at no charge.
 - Internet mailbox - free email used through an Internet connection on Webmail or with an IMAP or POP mail software. This service gives you up to 50Mb of mail storage.

- Wireless internet services are available throughout campus. Simply log on with your GatorLink account from any laptop to access the service.
- Computer lab access - access to computers (Macs and PCs) in the AT computer labs. This includes an Internet connection, access to your email, popular word processing, printing, spreadsheets and graphic programs. This service is offered on a space-available basis. (<https://labs.at.ufl.edu/>)
- UF Student Computer Requirements (<https://it.ufl.edu/policies/student-computing-requirements/>)

When you first applied to UF, you were given a UFID, which will always remain your student identification. When you were admitted to the university, you were asked to create a GatorLink account. GatorLink is your computer identity (username and password) at the university. It allows you to access all computers on campus. It creates your username@ufl.edu email address. This is where official university communications are sent.

To open your GatorLink account, access www.gatorlink.ufl.edu/. You must use your GatorLink account to establish your campus email through the webmail system used by the University of Florida, GatorMail.

MyUFL Portal

(go to www.ufl.edu and click on myUFL at the bottom of the website—requires scrolling) The myUFL Portal is the access site for news, course listings, job listings, your personal information and all other aspects of your life at UF. Sign on using your GatorLink ID and password. Please log on and familiarize yourselves with this very valuable site.

ONE.UF

<https://one.ufl.edu/>

With your GatorLink username and password, you can logon to ONE.UF, the Student Information System. ONE.UF is the university's secure web site and your gateway to

E-learning is the on-line course management system used by the University of Florida. All instructors and GTAs can set up an account with Academic Technology and put their course assignments, readings, and grades online using the Learning Management Software (LMS) Canvas. After the course is registered online, students access the site with their GatorLink account.

Gator1 UFID Card

www.gator1.ufl.edu/

You will need a student ID, known as a Gator 1 card. Gator 1 includes your picture, your status (student, faculty and or staff) and your UFID number. The Gator 1 Card makes campus life easier. Students use the Gator1 Card daily for access to the RTS bus service, access buildings, UF Library services and to access Prepaid Vending, Gator Dining and Bookstore accounts.

The ID Card Services main office is the official home of Gator 1 Central. ID Card Services is located on the ground floor of the UF Bookstore & Welcome Center. IMPORTANT NOTE from the FAQ of UF Health Compliance Office:

I am on an assistantship and will be enrolled in GatorGradCare. Do I need to complete an insurance waiver?

- If you are eligible and enroll in GatorGradCare, this coverage meets the mandatory health insurance requirement. You do not need to do anything else after submitting the GatorGradCare enrollment through the enrollment site and agreeing to the mandatory health insurance requirement policy through your student account. Because of the timing, you will see the charge for the school-sponsored plan on your account until your GatorGradCare eligibility is confirmed. You should not pay this charge because it will be removed once your GatorGradCare eligibility is confirmed.

Oversized mail can be found with the assistance of the Facilities and Operations Specialist in FAC 101. Please keep noise to a minimum due to the proximity of mailboxes to staff offices.

Office Equipment and Inventory

Classrooms are generally equipped with a variety of technology for presentation of digital files. Areas may have equipment on carts for mobile use as well. When preparing for presentations and classroom use, please consult with area faculty on anticipating special equipment needs.

You may check out a dolly or ladder from the SA+AH Facilities and Operations Specialist in FAC 101.

Copy Machines

The copier for faculty and graduate assistant use is located outside of FAC 101. Each eligible user will be assigned an access code by the SA+AH Office. The GTAs eligible to use the copier are students that are currently teaching a course and who need copies for SA+AH teaching materials only. GAs using the copier for their supervisor must use their supervisor's code.

In order to preserve the copy machines, please use great care when operating them. In case of malfunction, follow the device prompts on the help menu or ask one of the office staff for assistance. There is a daily limit on copy machines.

Large Copying Jobs

If eligible graduate students have a large copying job, they may need to consult with area faculty and the Senior Administrative Officer about printing the job off-site. When possible, digital pdf files may be appropriate in lieu of handouts. SA+AH copy machines are for professional, not personal use. Do not copy personal notes or papers, theses, dissertations or any non-classroom related materials.

SA+AH Facilities and Equipment

If graduate students see a need to have repairs or maintenance work (beyond the daily cleaning) performed on equipment or the facilities in their areas, they should consult with area faculty and teaching lab specialists. Submit a request for review via email or memo outlining the specific work that needs to be accomplished to the Facilities and Operations Specialist in FAC 101. Students must not call or submit work requests directly to the Physical Plant Division (PPD).

University and SA+AH equipment, classrooms, laboratories, and any other University property are for use by employees and current students. Friends and former students are not permitted to borrow or otherwise use University property. Students are not allowed to take home any University and SA+AH property unless authorized check out systems are in place.

Faculty, staff and graduate students should be aware of equipment in the areas in which they work. Lost or stolen UF property or equipment must be reported to the Facilities and Operations Specialist and the University Police non-emergency number: (352) 392-1111.

SA+AH Guidelines for Students Using University Facilities and Grounds/ Rules Governing Creation and Exhibition of Artwork for Academic Credit

See SA+AH Safety Program website: <https://arts.ufl.edu/academics/art-and-art-history/health-safety/> All Studio and Art Education graduate students must attend the annual fall Health and Safety Training. Failure to attend will result in delayed studio assignments.

Key Policy

Graduate assistants and teaching assistants may request keys or key codes to their classrooms and other assigned offices and studio spaces from the School of Art and Art History Office Facilities and Operations Specialist. You must provide authorization (e-mail or in writing from your supervisor) to the SA+AH Facilities and Operations Specialist.

All university keys must be returned to the SA+AH Office when students change assignments or graduate. If a student does not turn in a key that was checked out to them, a hold may be placed on their record until the key is returned or charged for lost key duplication.

Do not accept or give keys to other students. Students are responsible for all keys checked out to them. If students attempt to turn in a key that was not checked out to them, it will not be accepted.

Key Pads

Access codes for rooms with keypad entry will be distributed by the Facilities and Operations Specialist and faculty coordinator for that room. The key code will be given out to all applicable students at the beginning of each semester or you can inquire at the SA+AH office. FAC has a limited access keycard system located at the southwest ground floor entrance. If you are locked out, notify the Facilities and Operations Specialist the next business day. You may call UFPD at the non-emergency phone number (352) 392-1111 for access by providing your UFID card.

Facilities

Please make every effort to maintain the facilities and grounds of the SA+AH, the College of The Arts, and The University of Florida. Specifically, we ask that you follow these guidelines:

- Do not mark, paint on, or deface any interior or exterior of the SA+AH or College facilities.
- Always take care to use protective drop cloths or masking material when working with paint media or similar materials to protect the floors in public spaces, such as hallways, stairwells and classrooms. This applies also to sidewalks and grounds.
- Permission from the appropriate University official must be requested in advance of installing art projects on the UF campus. If a special project requires temporary modification to a wall surface or the grounds, you must obtain specific permission from the instructor and appropriate campus official prior to undertaking the project. The site must be returned to its original condition immediately following the project unless prior written permission has been obtained.
- No art project may interfere with or impede access to classrooms, hallways or other public spaces.
- All site-specific art projects must be installed and engineered with the safety of the general public in mind.
- Grades will not be issued for the project or course until the project has been completely removed, and the site has been restored to its original condition.

Failure to comply with these rules will result in disciplinary action, withholding grades, the possible lowering of a grade or failure of the course.

General Classroom Maintenance

When using classrooms and studios, make certain that the facility is restored to a suitable condition for the next class (Clean up after each class!). Dispose of trash and put away projects and props so the class following can easily and efficiently make use of the classroom.

The SA+AH faculty will make every effort to see that your materials are secure in your classrooms. However, the SA+AH and the faculty assume NO LIABILITY for materials, supplies, projects or personal items within the facilities.

The SA+AH or its faculty assumes NO responsibility for any material left in the classroom after a course has officially ended. It is each student's responsibility to remove all materials from the classrooms after the semester has concluded. If the student wishes to make individual arrangements with the instructor to keep any material after the class has ended, it is the student's responsibility to make these arrangements, with the instructor's approval. Any artwork, supplies or other material left in the classroom after the semester has concluded, without prior specific arrangements, will be disposed of.

Guidelines for Studios

Studios are only available for a three-year period to full-time students.

See Appendix E and Appendix F: Graduate Studio Contract

Guidelines for FAC 114/Art History and Museum Studies Graduate Study Carrels

GENERAL ETIQUETTE

The study carrel space is a quiet workspace. Office hours may NOT be held in the carrel room. Office hours must be held in designated GA/GTA office spaces during hours scheduled for Art History. Please be considerate of others.

- Turn off ring tones on cell phones when entering the room.
- If you do need to speak on the phone, please leave the room.
- Keep personal conversations at a whisper and to a minimum.
- Use headphones when listening to audio programs or music.
- DO NOT give your keypad code to anyone, including friends, partners, and other students.

GENERAL MAINTENANCE

- Use only Post-It notes when posting notices at your carrel.
- Do not store food in your study area.
- You are responsible for removing personal property from your carrel no later than June 1 for May graduates, and no later than August 1 for summer graduates.
- Property remaining after such time will be removed, destroyed or recycled without further notice to the owner.
- The SA+AH accepts no liability for material left on the premises.

KEYS

- After selecting your carrel, you may pick up your desk key from the Facilities and Operations Specialist, FAC 101.
- All keys must be returned to the SA+AH office when you graduate. If you do not turn in a key that was checked out to you, a hold will be placed on your record until the key is returned.
- Do not accept or give keys to other students. You are responsible for all keys checked out to you.

Institutional Research Board (IRB)

If you decide to conduct or supervise research that will involve human subjects or animals, and if you use any facility, funding or advice from UF, you will be required to send a research proposal to the University of Florida IRB board for approval before beginning your research. You must plan with your advisor to apply well in advance, since they will also need to approve all stages of the application. For more information about how this applies to individual research please review their website:

<http://irb.ufl.edu/index.htm>

Special Considerations for Projects

Making and exhibiting art works involves many issues in addition to those of aesthetics. Sometimes the creation of art works may involve issues regarding the use of human subjects and animals, health and safety concerns, environmental impact, inappropriate or illegal use of property (including copyright violations) and other ethical or legal issues. It is always the artist's responsibility to consider carefully the ways in which making, performing, or exhibiting art involves such matters.

In making art for academic credit the student is responsible for identifying any such issues that pertain to his/her art-making process. It is the student's responsibility to do the necessary research to clearly understand factors of health and safety considerations and ethical and legal questions such as those listed above. It is also the student's responsibility to identify and consider areas of conflict as an integral and natural part of conceptualizing and planning any project. The course instructor will help identify sources for information about any of these issues. For example, the SA+AH has specific rules that guide students in the use of live animals in art projects. The SA+AH also provides workshops for the safe operation of power tools and large equipment, such as kilns.

Permission must be obtained through the SA+AH Director's office and must be requested in advance of installing art projects on the UF campus.

SA+AH Procedures/Programs/Policies for Graduate Study

Deadlines

It is the student's responsibility to comply with all deadlines, procedures, and requirements of the Graduate School, the College of The Arts and the SA+AH. Remember that SA+AH deadlines are usually several weeks earlier than those of the Graduate School.

Students must be familiar with those sections of the Graduate Catalog that outline general regulations and requirements of the SA+AH and should keep track of the degree credit requirements in general, as well as specific requirements within their areas of concentration.

Ignorance of a rule is not a basis for waiving the rule. School deadlines are determined early each semester and distributed to all graduate students via your UF email account.

Graduate Certificate Programs in the School of Art + Art History

A Graduate Certificate program is a formal collection of courses that together form a coherent program of study offered through an academic unit. A Graduate Certificate is recognition of the acquisition of knowledge and skills in a given field of study. A Graduate Certificate is an academic credential granted by the University of Florida. As such, all Graduate Certificates must follow the requirements of admission, successful completion of approved graduate level coursework, application to receive the credential, and enrollment during the term in which the certificate is awarded and posted to the transcript.

The School of Art + Art History offers two graduate certificates in Museum Studies and Curatorial Studies. The links and outlines are listed below:

Graduate Certificate in Museum Studies

The certificate program requires a total of 12 credit hours. All students take ARH 6938 Introduction to Museology and select two of the four seminars (for 9 credits) and an 120-hour internship (3 credits)

- ARH 6895 Collections Management
- ARH 6836 Exhibitions
- ARH 6797 Museum Education
- ARH 6930 Special Topics
- ARH 6941 Internship - Students are encouraged to find an internship most appropriate to their skills and interests, and museum studies faculty will assist when needed. Before beginning their internship, students are required to complete a contract, signed by their supervisor, outlining the primary duties of the internship.

Graduate Certificate in Curatorial Studies

Certificate Admission Requirements

The certificate program requires a total of 13 credit hours. All students take the following courses, one elective, and a one 180-hour internship (4 credits).

- ARH 6481 Topics in Curatorial Studies (3 credits)
- ARH 5816 Methods of Research and Bibliography (3 credits)
- Elective From SA+AH Degree Programs (3 credits)
- Supervised Internship (ARH 6941) - The internship enables students to acquire the necessary skills and training for a curatorial profession, including knowledge of issues and best practices within art institutional contexts; art collection management; collaborative work; as well as institution-based research toward art exhibitions. Students are encouraged to find an internship most appropriate to their skills and interests, and art history faculty will assist when needed. Before beginning their internship students are required to complete a contract, signed by their supervisor, outlining the primary duties of the internship.

Graduate Advising and Registration

Each residential graduate program (art ed, art history, design + visual communication, museum studies, studio art) has a Director of Graduate Study (DGS). See Appendix A to identify the DGS who is also your academic advisor. However, once you have established a Supervisory Committee, you should confer with the Supervisory Committee Chair before meeting with your DGS. Your advisor does not register you; you will self-register.

and related handbooks at <https://arteducationmasters.arts.ufl.edu>

Before enrolling each semester, students must meet with their Supervisory Committee Chair AND/OR the appropriate DGS to discuss their curriculum registration requirements, assist with Registration Request forms and Independent study contracts (see Appendix J/Appendix K for these forms). You will track your record with a tracking sheet during these meetings. After registration you will turn in your updated tracking sheet so it can be kept on file. Due to the nature of the SA+AH graduate curriculum, you will find that pre-advising and advising will assist you. Your DGS will notify you of special office hours during heavy advising periods. It is advisable to meet your DGS in person a minimum of once a semester minimum to look ahead and to stay on track. DO NOT WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE TO decide to register.

Once you have filled out your electronic registration and Independent study contract forms, submit these documents to the eLearning Art + Art History Advisement folder. These may be submitted throughout registration and finalized during the drop/add period with your area DGS.

Registration Requirements

The University of Florida operates on a semester system consisting of two 16-week periods and two 6-week summer terms.

Required Full-Time Registration (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/graduate/regulations/>)

Graduate Assistants:

The full-time registration requirement is reduced for students who are graduate assistants, based on the appointment's *FTE. The most common assistantships have an FTE of .25 - .74 and require the following registration: 9 credits for fall and 9 credits for spring. Summer A appointees must be registered for 3 credits, and Summer B appointees must be registered for 3 credits. For students on appointment for Summer C, registration must equal 6 credits. The chart below provides additional details regarding appropriate registration for various circumstances.

Students on appointment may register for additional credit hours, however they are financially liable for credits in excess of the required number. If a student on appointment drops below the required registration at any time in the semester, the student becomes financially liable for the entire registration. Students who do not register properly are not permitted to remain on appointment.

* The calculation of full-time equivalent (FTE) is an employee's scheduled hours divided by the employer's hours for a full-time workweek. When an employer has a 40-hour workweek, employees who are scheduled to work 40 hours per week are 1.0 FTEs.

The following chart has both full and part time registration requirements for each semester that you are registered. For additional schedules see <https://catalog.ufl.edu/graduate/regulations/> under "Graduate Assistantship Tuition Waiver and Registration Requirements".

REQUIRED Full-time Registration
Status	Fall & Spring	Summer A	Summer B	OR	Summer C
10-month Graduate	9	3	3		3

Assts.
12-month Graduate Assts. on assignment	9	3	3		6
MINIMUM Registration (Self Funded / no waiver - Petition Required by Graduate School)
Students not on assignment	3	2	2	OR	2
MINIMUM Registration for Financial Aid
	12	4	4	And/Or	4

Holds

To clear holds, go to ONE.UF, sign in, go to the left hand menu, click on registration prep, look for holds, accept the registration terms, update your emergency contact/verify. You must do this frequently during advanced registration and registration each semester. The SA+AH graduate office cannot identify or clear your holds.

Aid Packages and Registration

ALWAYS CHECK WITH FINANCIAL AID TO VERIFY YOUR AID.

If you have an assistantship: SA+AH assistantships carry a tuition waiver for 9 credit hours; therefore, students must be registered for 9 hours to be eligible for the waiver. Please note that tuition waivers do NOT cover fees.

Failure to register for an appropriate number of credits may affect continuation of assistantships or other student aid.

Individual Study/Cognate/Instructor Consent Form

The specificity or requirements of your graduate research may call for courses that are considered independent study or thesis course. Students must complete a “Request for Individual Study” form (Appendix K) to do so. The consent from faculty applies to courses ranging from true independent study, to cognate courses and linked courses. Your DGS will guide you through these considerations requiring instructor consent.

Your DGS will fill out the correct course number (based on the course content and your tracking sheet) BEFORE you meet with the cooperating instructor. Then, bring the form to the instructor and fill out the three required sections (objectives/requirements, means of evaluation, meeting schedule and sign the contract with your instructor. Electronic mail and attachments may be used, however the e-mail or print out must address the three areas outlined in the forms. If you are providing an email attachment or submitting to a secure eLearning space, please provide electronic files associated with the Individual Study contract. If you are signing up for a GRADUATE COGNATE COURSE, the instructor may write in the form- see cognate course # syllabus. If you are signing up for an UNDERGRADUATE COGNATE COURSE- the instructor MUST fill out the graduate level requirements for this course.

This statement is a “contract” between the student and the instructor and will be used as a guideline for calculating the student’s grade.

Grades

Students on assistantships must keep a GPA of 3.0 and above to maintain their appointments. Grades are only one part of the overall system of evaluation that leads to graduation. Grades do not in and of themselves guarantee continuance in a program if the student does not meet standards in any of the other evaluative processes. More information on the grading system can be found in the Graduate Catalog.

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/graduate/regulations/>

The SA+AH follows all the policies on courses, transfer of credit, grades(<https://catalog.ufl.edu/graduate/admission/>), satisfactory/unsatisfactory grades and deferred grade that are outlined in the Graduate Catalog

Incomplete Grades

An Incomplete Grade Contract is designed to assist faculty and students by ensuring that the Incomplete Grade option is used only under extenuating circumstances. Merely not finishing work does NOT validate an incomplete grade. The Director will review all requests with faculty and advisors for an incomplete grade. If a form is approved, both students and faculty must take responsibility for incomplete grades by finishing and grading coursework in timely fashion. A grade of “I” cannot be assigned without the accompanying contract specifying what must be done to complete the course and the deadlines for acceptance of work.

The contract helps faculty avoid last minute pressure from students who may ask for an “I” because their academic work appears to be unsatisfactory as finals and the end of a term near. It also helps alleviate the problem of students coming back to complete an “I” several semesters (or even years) after the fact, when the original faculty member or teaching assistant is no longer at UF and is not available to reconstruct the work necessary to complete the class.

After all required parties sign the agreement, a copy should be placed in the student’s registration file.

If a student receives an “I” for thesis credits, the student will not graduate and will have to continue courses the following semester and reapply for graduation. Assistantships will not carry over.

Incomplete grades must be changed as soon as possible. Grades of “I” carry no quality points and lower the student’s overall grade point average after one term. Students with less than a 3.0 GPA may not hold an assistantship; therefore, unresolved “I” grades may put employment or assistantships in jeopardy. Under the Collective Bargaining Agreement, the Graduate School cannot approve beyond one probationary semester students to continue assistantships and receive tuition waivers unless they have an overall 3.0 or better GPA.

All grades of NG (no grade) and “I” must be removed prior to the award of a graduate degree.

Incomplete Grade Contracts are available from your DGS, instructors or the SA+AH Graduate Information Office.

Unsatisfactory Scholarship

Any graduate student may be denied further registration in the University or in a graduate program should progress toward completion of the program become unsatisfactory to the SA+AH, the College of The Arts or the Graduate School. Failure to maintain a 3.0 average on all work attempted is, by definition, unsatisfactory progress. An inability to acquire faculty membership on a Supervisory Committee is also considered unsatisfactory progress. In addition to courses, MFA studio students have a required 1st year and 2nd year Review. MA students have a 1st year review. Each student must successfully pass requisite reviews to continue registering in their program.

Grievance Procedure For Academic Problems

Excerpt from UF Graduate School Handbook (page 42)

The University of Florida is committed to a policy of treating all members of the university community fairly in regard to their personal and professional concerns. A formal grievance procedure exists to ensure each graduate student is given adequate opportunity to bring complaints and problems of an academic nature, exclusive of grades, to the attention of the University administration with the assurance each concern be given fair consideration.

A grievance is defined as dissatisfaction occurring when a student thinks that any condition affecting him or her is unjust or inequitable or creates an unnecessary hardship. Areas in which student grievances may arise include scientific misconduct, sexual harassment, discrimination, employment-related concerns, and academic matters. The University has various mechanisms available for handling these problems when they arise. In general, it is desirable to settle concerns in an informal fashion rather than initiating a formal grievance. Communication is a key element. As soon as an issue arises, the student should speak with either the supervisory committee chair or the departmental graduate coordinator. If neither of these individuals is available or if they are part of the circumstance of concern, the department chair is the next alternative.

Within the School of Art + Art History the following procedures should be followed:

Step 1. Oral discussion between the graduate student and the person(s) alleged to have caused the grievance is strongly encouraged. The discussion should be held as soon as the student first becomes aware of the act or condition that is the basis of the grievance. The student may wish to present their grievance in writing to the person(s) alleged to have caused the grievance.

The person alleged to have caused the grievance must respond to the student either orally or in writing.

Step 2. If the student considers the response to the discussion and/or written document from Step 1 to be unsatisfactory and feels that the grievance still exists, the grievance should be brought in writing, with all supporting documentation, to the School Director or a designated representative of the department, usually the Associate Director of the School.

The School Director or designated representative of the department must respond to the student's grievance in writing in a timely fashion.

Step 3. If a student is not satisfied with the result of the discussion with the School Director, graduate students should discuss the matter, in a timely fashion with the College of The Art's Associate Dean for Student Affairs. The Associate Dean will provide consultation in an effort to resolve the matter informally and will provide a copy of this policy to the student.

If a student remains dissatisfied with the result of the informal intervention by the Associate Dean, they should confirm in writing to the Associate Dean their desire to proceed with a formal grievance.

The Associate Dean shall investigate the matter thoroughly and respond to the student in writing in a timely fashion.

If the student is dissatisfied with the written response by the Associate Dean, they may appeal the matter in writing to the Dean. The Dean will investigate the matter thoroughly and respond in writing in a timely fashion.

Step 4. The right of appeal in writing to the Ombudsman for graduate and professional students, as the authorized representative of the President of the University, shall be the final appeal but only after the above steps 1–3 have been exhausted. The Office of the Ombudsman is located in 31 Tigert Hall, 392-1308 and their website is <http://www.ombuds.ufl.edu>.

Other Grievance Resources: Most employment-related grievances are covered by the Collective Bargaining Agreement, Article 22, between the Florida Board of Education of the State University System and Graduate Assistants United. Students with employment-related concerns should contact the GAU office at 392-0274, or Human Resource Services at 352-392-2477.

Allegations of research misconduct should be brought to the attention of the administrative officer (e.g., department chair, dean) to whom the accused party reports. Students may wish to seek advice from the Director of the Division of Research Compliance & Global Support, 219 Grinter, 392-1582, before making a formal complaint.

Graduate students who have complaints or problems with other aspects of university life should consult the Dean of Students Office in 202 Peabody Hall, 392-1261 for the appropriate grievance procedure.

Supervisory Committees: PhD

See PhD Degree Requirements, p. 26

Supervisory Committees: MA, MFA

Refer to the Table of Contents for each degree program's specific committee requirements

Form: Appendix M

The student's supervisory committee should be appointed as soon as possible after the student has been admitted to graduate school but no later than the second semester of graduate study. If a student takes fewer than 12 credits in the first term, the deadline date to appoint a supervisory committee is the end of the term in which he/she has accumulated 12 or more credits or at the end of the second semester.

Supervisory committees are initiated by the student and discussed with the area DGS advisor. Only those members of the faculty who have been appointed to the Graduate Faculty may serve as chair of a supervisory committee.

When a student has selected his/her committee members, he/she should submit the electronic form (Appendix M) to the designated Art + Art History Advisement eLearning dropbox for final approval.

Students can verify that their Supervisory Committee has been entered into their Graduate file by logging into ONE.UF, locating the “My Resources” section list item “Grad Student Info” and selecting the link titled “Graduate Information Management System (GIMS)”. A direct link is to this information is: <http://gradschool.ufl.edu/gimsportal/gatorlink/portal.asp>

Abstract

Each area requires student project in lieu of thesis support paper or thesis submissions to include a one or two page abstract about their project in lieu of thesis or thesis.

See Appendix N (thesis abstract) and Appendix O (project abstract) for the appropriate format as applied to a thesis or project in lieu of thesis support paper example.

Thesis templates are located at:

<https://helpdesk.ufl.edu/application-support-center/etd-technical-support/ms-word-and-latex-templates/>

The Chair of the Supervisory Committee and all the members must approve the abstract for submission milestones determined by the UF Graduate School. Once the Committee has approved the abstract, students will submit copies at strategic check points established by each area and area DGS during their defense year.

Announcement of Defenses and Exams

From the UF Graduate Handbook:

“Notice of the time and place of the final examination must be submitted to the departmental graduate information office 10 business days (2 calendar weeks) before the examination. The final examination may not be scheduled earlier than the term preceding the semester in which the degree is to be conferred.” Submit the announcement to your chair and then the area DGS for approval and distribution.

Graduate School Assistants and Teaching Assistants

SA+AH assistants assigned at .50 FTE, or 1/2 time, will be expected to work within a range of 13-20 hours per week to fulfill their assistantship requirements. Range of hours is impacted by several area or assignment needs from one semester to the next. A portion of this stipend is to support assistants' research. Letters of appointment come from the College of the Arts Admissions office (Laura Robertson) and will list your faculty supervisor.

Maintaining Assistantships/Fellowships

Each GA /GTA is required to keep a GPA of 3.0 or higher to maintain their assignment. Students on assistantships must maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher to keep their assignment and must pass all evaluative reviews.

GA / GTA Assistant Responsibilities

GA/GTA responsibilities typically include, but are not necessarily limited to, the following:

- clerical duties, shop duties, research activities, teaching, etc.

All assistants should adhere to accepted standards of professional behavior including:

- utilizing organizational skills to communicate expectations/ideas clearly
- following supervisor's instructions
- arriving prepared for work
- dressing appropriately
- notifying supervisor in a timely fashion and main office if unable to attend work for any reason
- communicating with supervisor when challenges arise

Faculty Supervisor's Responsibilities for Assistants (GA) and Teaching Assistants (GTA)

- uploading student syllabus to the college website
- identifying and outlining the GA's responsibilities prior the beginning of the semester
- providing the GA with a performance evaluation by completing the SA+AH Graduate Assistant Evaluation Form in a timely fashion and turned into the Graduate Coordinator;
- working with the GA to overcome any deficiencies in fulfilling the responsibilities listed above;
- notifying the Graduate Coordinator if the GA is having difficulty fulfilling his/her assigned duties.
- For GTA's
 - Introductory Meeting
 - Review content of course (syllabus, assignments, presentations how assignments should be graded/ grading sheets)
 - Facilitate student access to area equipment, crit rooms, room usage, H&S, classroom use, etc....
 - Set date for class visit
 - Class observation once per semester
 - End of semester meeting to discuss GTA evaluation (see below)
- Communicate with Area Purchaser to plan for fee needs in a timely fashion (lab/equip)
- Complete GTA evaluation and turn in to Graduate Coordinator

GA/GTA Evaluation Process

GA/GTA shall be evaluated in writing for each contract offered over a semester or annually. The evaluation is to cover the assigned duties and responsibilities appropriate to the assignment. Supervisors should make sure that graduate assistants are fully aware of the performance standards and expectations that apply to the assignment at the beginning of each contract semester or year.

In general, all performance standards should be observable, measurable, achievable, reasonable, and related to the assignment. More importantly, performance standards should be consistent for similar assignments so that all graduate assistants are evaluated fairly. The Collective Bargaining Agreement provides specific guidelines for observation and visitations, as well as evaluating the nature of the assignment.

To ensure a fair and successful evaluation, your supervisor should address performance issues as they occur in a timely, personal, and verbal manner. In addition, the student should:

- know what is expected of him/her
- be properly trained and have the support to successfully complete the assignment
- be immediately made aware of any unsatisfactory performance and be provided with the means to improve on said performance
- have exemplary performance noticed and noted

The effort put forth in a well-planned and thoughtful evaluation can accomplish many goals. In addition to documenting the student's work product it will:

- provide valuable insights into work done so that the student may improve and grow;
- reinforce good performance by recognizing positive contributions;
- enhance two-way communication, which is important in all careers; and
- clarify goals of the School and College.

The Faculty Supervisors must notify the Area Coordinator, DGS and Graduate Office if the graduate assistant is not fulfilling their assigned duties.

Additional information for MFA Graduate Teaching Assistants (Studio)

All studio MFA students who receive assistantships and students interested in teaching studio art will be required to successfully complete ARE 6386: Teaching Art in Higher Education during their first semester or prior to being assigned a course to teach. Normally, first semester graduate assistants will not be assigned classes of their own unless they have had prior teaching experience. Instead, their assignments may include grading, leading discussion sections, overseeing studio sections, providing technical assistance in studios, assisting faculty, or working in the College, the SA+AH or in other units.

All Studio students with teaching responsibilities will be jointly supervised by the Director of Graduate Teaching (DGT) and the assigned area faculty member. Both supervisors will observe the student's teaching and complete a final evaluation. Studio GTA Resources can be located in eLearning course "Studio Art GPS"

In addition, the DGT will require the GTA to:

- Develop a course syllabus, a draft of which must be submitted to the Faculty Supervisor for approval in a timely manner.
- Review teaching strategies, best practices and resources for course delivery
- Schedule one office hour per week.
- Attend GTA meetings
- Periodically display student classroom work in assigned spaces in Fine Arts buildings.

General SA+AH and UF Policies/Support

UF Policy on Alcohol and Drugs

<https://hr.ufl.edu/forms-policies/policies-managers/drug-free-workplace/>

The University of Florida is committed to providing on and off-campus environments free of the abuse of alcohol and illegal use of alcohol and other drugs. The following summary of the University's policies concerning the use of alcohol and other drugs is provided to you in response to the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act and Amendments of 1989.

The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of a controlled substance or the unlawful possession and use of alcohol is prohibited in and on property owned or controlled by the University of Florida or any other UF facility. No employee or student is to report to work, class, or any University activities (on or off-campus) while under the influence of illegal drugs or alcohol.

The use of alcoholic beverages by members of the University of Florida community is at all times subject to the alcoholic beverage laws of the state of Florida, City of Gainesville, County of Alachua, or other applicable local regulations and the University Alcohol Policy, Rule 6C1-2.019, Florida Administrative Code.

The possession and use of controlled drugs by members of the University of Florida community must at all times be in accordance with the provisions of Florida law, the rules of the Board of Governors, and the rules of the University of Florida. Under Florida law, no person may possess substances regulated under the provisions of Chapter 893, Florida Statutes (controlled substances and "designer drugs"), unless dispensed and used pursuant to prescription or otherwise authorized by law. Sale and delivery of such substances are prohibited unless authorized by law.

Under Statute 562.11, selling, giving, or serving alcoholic beverages to persons under age 21 or to permit a person under 21 years of age to consume said beverages is unlawful. It is also unlawful to misrepresent or misstate his or her age or any other person for the purpose of inducing any licensee or his agents or employees to sell, give, serve, or deliver any alcoholic beverages to a person less than 21 years of age.

Violation of the policies and laws described above is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination or expulsion in accordance with applicable University of Florida and Board of Governors rules. Disciplinary action against a student or employee by the University does not preclude the possibility of criminal charges against that individual. The filing of criminal charges similarly does not preclude action by the University of Florida.

See Alcohol & Other Drugs Services <https://counseling.ufl.edu/services/aod/>

UF Grade Posting Policy

Student academic information is, by law, confidential; an academic record that is individualized with a student's name, UFID, or social security number must be protected. A student's right to privacy is protected by Florida Statutes and the Federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), as amended, commonly referred to as the Buckley Amendment. Even if names are obscured, numeric student numbers are considered personally identifiable information.

In accordance with the guideline above, student papers or projects with the grade showing cannot be left in a public place such as the SA+AH Office, in the hallway outside faculty offices, or in envelopes taped to doors where students can see any other student's grade.

It is also a violation of the FERPA to discuss a student's grade with his/her parents without the consent of the student. In order to comply with FERPA, student information should not be transmitted to any third party outside the university without the student's written consent. This confidentiality has been established as UF policy including through Rule 6C1-4.007, FAC, which is on the web at <http://www.registrar.ufl.edu/ferpa.html>. Requests for student information can take many forms, including requests from potential employers. Should written permission be obtained from students to release confidential information, the original authorization should be retained in the student's file as support for any future release of information.

Grades submitted on time are available to students the Monday evening following commencement. Students may access their grades through the "My Self Service" link in the myUFL portal. Grades not submitted in a timely manner, or grades requiring a change (such as from an "Incomplete" to a letter grade), must be submitted in writing on the appropriate Grade Change Form, signed by the instructor, and approved department director.

Absences for Religious Holidays or Observances

Students, upon prior notification to their instructors, shall be excused from class or other scheduled academic activity to observe a religious holy day of their faith. Students shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up the material or activities covered in their absence. Students shall not be penalized due to absence from class or other scheduled academic activity because of religious observances. If a faculty member is informed of or is aware that a significant number of students are likely to be absent from his/her class because of a religious observance, a major exam or other academic event should not be scheduled at that time. Further, a student who is to be excused from class for a religious holy day is not required to provide a second party certification of the reasons for the absence. Finally, a student who believes that he/she has been unreasonably denied an education benefit due to religious beliefs or practices may seek redress through the student grievance procedure.

UF Honor Code and Guidelines

<https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/>

University of Florida students voted in the fall of 1995 to enact a student Honor Code including:

Preamble:

In adopting this Honor Code, the students of the University of Florida recognize that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students who enroll at the University commit to holding themselves and their peers to the high standard of honor required by the Honor Code. Any individual who becomes aware of a violation of the Honor Code is bound by honor to take corrective action. A student-run Honor Court and faculty support are crucial to the success of the Honor Code. The quality of a University of Florida education is dependent upon community acceptance and enforcement of the Honor Code.

UF Honor Code:

We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Pledge:

On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied:

"On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

Dean of Students Office and UF Policy Regarding Behavior in Instructional Spaces

Mission: The University of Florida Dean of Students Office creates a culture of care for students, their families, faculty and staff by providing exemplary programs and services designed to enhance students' academic and personal success.

Disruptive Behavior

Faculty, students, administrative, and professional staff members, and other employees (hereinafter referred to as “member(s)” of the University), who intentionally act to impair, interfere with, or obstruct the mission, purposes, order, operations, processes, and functions of the University shall be subject to appropriate disciplinary action by University authorities for misconduct, as set forth in the applicable rules of the Board of Governors and the University and state law governing such actions. A detailed list of disruptive conduct may be found at in the Student Code of Conduct. Be advised that a student can and will be dismissed from class if he/she engages in disruptive behavior.

Crisis Response Team

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Master of Arts in Art History

UF offers a terminal M.A. degree. We also offer this degree as a step to the Ph.D. Students with a B.A. who wish to pursue the Ph.D. must first complete the M.A. before they can matriculate in the Ph.D. program. M.A. students who wish to pursue the Ph.D. should make an informal application to the doctoral program by January 10th. See Ph.D. Program below.

No entrance or placement exams are given to entering students. However, international students must present a TOEFL score of 80 or better. For all students, preparation to meet the foreign language requirement (see below) is recommended prior to entering the program.

Degree Requirements

The SA+AH offers an M.A. in Art History in the following areas:

- Ancient/Medieval
- Renaissance/Baroque
- Modern and Contemporary
- Non-Western (including African, Asian, Pre-Columbian and Latin American)

The M.A. in Art History requires 36 credit hours including:

- 3 credits of research methods
- 27 credits of graduate courses (15 credits in art history, 12 elective credits, of which 9 credits may be in a supporting discipline)
- 6 credits of thesis research

Methods of Research and Bibliography (ARH 5816) is required prior to thesis work. Students will register for Thesis (ARH 6971) for two semesters.

Graduate courses

Students must take four graduate seminars. At least three of these seminars should be taken in the first year. In addition to the four required graduate seminars, they must take a fifth distribution requirement, which may be a seminar or a cognate course in any field. These five courses must be taken with five different faculty members. Of the twelve required elective credits, up to nine elective credits may be taken in related areas with the approval of the Director of Graduate Studies for Art History and in consultation with the Chair of the student's Supervisory Committee. Outside courses should relate to the program. For example, those interested in African art may want to take advantage of courses offered through the Center for African Studies. The Registration Form is Appendix J of this document.

Supervisory Committees

The student's Supervisory Committee should be appointed as soon as possible after the student has been admitted to graduate school but no later than the second semester of graduate study. If a student takes fewer than 12 credits in the first term, the deadline date to appoint a Supervisory Committee is the end of the term in which he/she has accumulated 12 or more credits or at the end of the second semester.

Supervisory Committees are initiated by the student, and should consist of at least two members: a Supervisory Committee Chair, who will also act as the student's primary academic advisor, and a second member from the Art History faculty. An outside member from another UF college is also highly recommended.

Only those members of the faculty who have been appointed to the Graduate Faculty may serve as chair of a Supervisory Committee. In addition, the chair must be a Graduate Faculty member from the student's area of concentration. Additional members may be from SA+AH or from another UF college, provided they are Graduate Faculty and their expertise relates to the student's research. If a minor is designated, the committee must include one Graduate Faculty member from the minor department.

When a student has selected his/her committee members, he/she should submit the names to the Graduate Program Assistant for approval (Appendix M).

A student may amend his/her committee for good reason before the start of the final semester.

Annual Review

The Annual Art History review (Appendix W) is a fact-finding review and part of an overall system of evaluation in the graduate program at UF. It relies in part on a student's completing an annual progress report, distributed by the DGS and due near the end of the spring semester. Although a student must maintain a B average, they must also pass the annual review in order to continue in their program of study. The student should be aware that the criteria and determination made at the review is not reflective of their grades or GPA at the time of the review. The annual review is a crucial component of the Masters, as all graduate students are expected to demonstrate the ability to critically reflect on their assimilated knowledge in the field, as well as outline their research interests before proceeding with the graduate degree.

The annual review of the Art History student's progress takes place at the end of the first year of graduate study (or at the end of the semester in which the student gains 18 UF credits) to determine the student's fitness for continuation in the program.

Foreign Language Proficiency

Reading proficiency in a foreign language appropriate for the major area of study must be demonstrated before thesis research is begun (i.e. normally in the first year of study).

This may be demonstrated by passing a departmental language exam administered at the beginning of each fall and spring semester. Exam dates are announced and administered by the DGS. (Students may take any courses (UF or non-UF) they feel would support their studies for the exams; however, these courses will not count towards degree credits.)

The DGS will inform the student of the results of the exam via the language course form (Appendix T), and will forward the form to the SAAH graduate office to be officially recorded with the College Graduate office. The form will be file in the student's degree folder.

Last Semester (2nd year):

M.A. Requirements for Graduation

It is essential that all candidates check with Laura Robertson, the Graduate Admissions Director of The College of The Arts, to be sure that all requirements for graduation have been met or will be met in the final semester. Petitions of degree requirements and transfer of credit will be entertained by the Graduate School no later than the term preceding the one in which the candidate is to receive the degree.

Deadlines

The Graduate School issues Deadline Dates for each term. The dates and instructions therein supersede those listed in the Graduate Catalog calendar. Copies of Deadline Dates and related forms and materials are available on the Graduate School Calendar. These deadlines are firm. Additional deadline dates are issued by the College of The Arts Admissions Office and the School of Art and Art History.

Registration

M.A. students must enroll in ARH 6971 (Research for Master's Thesis) during the term the final examination (oral defense) is given and the degree is conferred.

Degree Application

All degree candidates must complete the online degree application. Care must be taken to cite the correct degree, year and term. Apply online through ONE.UF.

Thesis Proposal. Students are required to present a draft of their Thesis Proposal to the Chair of their supervisory committee. The proposal shall include:

- An outline of the proposed research and procedures
- A statement of the significance of the project
- A preliminary bibliography

After reviewing the proposal and questioning the student about it, the Chair of the committee will either pass the student on to thesis work or, in consultation with the rest of the faculty, dismiss the student from the program based on academic performance.

Thesis. The recommended length is 50–75 pages.

Each student is responsible for conforming to regulations governing format, final term procedures and dates for submitting his/her thesis to his/her Supervisory Committee. Students MUST follow the procedures outlined online.

Responsibilities of the Supervisory Committee and Chair

It is the responsibility of the Chair of the Supervisory Committee to review the initial rough drafts of the thesis with the student and make suggestions for improvement before it is distributed to the Supervisory Committee.

The student presents the final copy of the thesis to the other member(s) of the Supervisory Committee for final review before the Oral Defense. It should require no more than two meetings to make additional suggestions to the student and to approve the report.

The Thesis must be defended and in final form prior to submission.

Preparation for Final Examination/Defense

Upon submission of the final copy of the thesis, the student will schedule an oral defense date with his/her Supervisory Committee Chair.

Oral Defense

The oral defense will be a formal presentation of the Thesis work. All members of the Committee must be present. The Supervisory Committee Chair will invite other members of the graduate faculty to attend, and the oral defense is open to the public.

The student will give a 20-minute formal presentation that addresses the progress of his/her work. It is expected that he/she will demonstrate how the research problem has been defined, researched, and resolved.

After the presentation, members of the Committee will ask the student questions pertaining to his/her work, and then confer in private to accept the thesis, to require further changes, or to reject it.

Upon successful completion of the Oral Defense, a Final Examination Form will be signed by the Supervisory Committee and forwarded to the SA+AH office for the Director's signature.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Doctoral Program in Art History

UF offers a terminal M.A. degree. We also offer this degree as a step to the Ph.D. Students with a B.A. who wish to pursue the Ph.D. must first complete the M.A. before they can matriculate in the Ph.D. program. M.A. students who wish to pursue the Ph.D. should make an informal application to the doctoral program by January 10th. See below.

An M.A. degree in Art History (or closely related field) is required before any student can matriculate in the Ph.D. program. Students who have taken the M.A. at the University of Florida, who wish to pursue the doctoral degree at UF must submit a letter of application and three letters of recommendation to the Ph.D. program by January 10. A writing sample is not required. All other prospective Ph.D. students must submit a formal application through the Graduate School.

Ph.D. in Art History Degree Requirements

The Ph.D. in Art History requires 60 credits beyond 30 credits of an M.A. for a total of 90 credits, including:

- 15 credits (5 courses) in primary area (maximum of 12 credits in any one seminar/course number)
- 9 credits (3 courses) in a secondary area of art history.
- 9 credits (3 courses) in related electives or outside minor field (Director of Graduate Studies for Art History must approve electives taken outside of the school. These, along with all other course work, should be decided in consultation with student's Doctoral Supervisor)
 - NOTE: Only 6 credits (2 courses) of related electives are required if student has not yet taken ARH 5816. Also, see Graduate Catalog for definition of "Minor Field"
- 27 credits of dissertation research and writing (including 3 credits of ARH 7979 to prepare for Qualifying Exams)
- Additional language courses (proficiency in at least one research language is required)

On successful completion of the qualifying examination, the approval by the Supervisory Committee of the dissertation prospectus, and having fulfilled all other course and language requirements, the student makes formal application for a change of status to Ph.D. candidacy. Normally, a student will be expected to present the completed dissertation and defend it at an oral defense conducted by the supervisory committee by the end of the sixth year in the program.

Deadlines

The Graduate School issues Deadline Dates for each term. The dates and instructions therein supersede those listed in the Graduate catalog calendar. Copies of Deadline Dates and related forms and materials are available at <https://catalog.ufl.edu/graduate/calendar/>. These deadlines are firm. Additional or associated deadline dates are issued by the College of The Arts Admissions Office and the School of Art and Art History.

Supervisory Committees

Supervisory committees are initiated by the student in consultation with the DGS. Only those members of the faculty who have been appointed to the Graduate Faculty may serve as chair of a supervisory committee. The committee should be appointed after the student has begun doctoral work and, in general, no later than the end of the second semester of equivalent full-time study. When a student has selected committee members, they should submit the names to the Graduate Program Assistant for final approval. (Forms: Appendix M)

A student may amend their committee for good reason before the start of the final semester.

Membership

The Supervisory Committee shall consist of no fewer than four members selected from the Graduate Faculty. At least two members, including the chair, (who will also act as the student's primary academic advisor), will be from the SA+AH, and at least one member will be drawn from a different educational discipline with no ties to the SA+AH to serve as an external member. One regular member may be from the SA+AH or another department.

Duties of the Supervisory Committee follow

- To inform the student of all regulations governing the degree sought. It should be noted, however, that this does not absolve the student from the responsibility of becoming knowledgeable concerning these regulations.
- To meet immediately after appointment to review the qualifications of the student and to discuss and approve a program of study.
- To meet and discuss and approve the proposed dissertation project and the plans for carrying it out.
- To give the student a yearly letter of evaluation in addition to the S/U grades awarded for the ARH 7979 and ART 7980. The chair should write this letter after consultation with the Supervisory Committee.
- To conduct the qualifying examination. The entire committee must be present for the oral portion of the examination. This examination must be given on campus.
- To meet when the work on the dissertation is at least one-half completed to review procedure, progress and expected results and to make suggestions for completion.
- To meet on campus when the dissertation is completed and conduct the final oral examination to assure that the dissertation is a piece of original research and a contribution to knowledge. No fewer than four faculty members, including all members of the Supervisory Committee, shall be present with the candidate for this examination.

Foreign Language Proficiency

Reading proficiency in a foreign language appropriate for the major area of study must be demonstrated by passing a departmental language exam. These are offered at the beginning of each semester. Students are expected to pass the exam by the end of their first year, but language proficiency must be demonstrated before students can begin to study for Qualifying Exams. Students should see the Art History Director of Graduate Studies for details concerning the language exam.

Students are expected to develop their research language skills by using them for study and research in coursework and in qualifying exams, as well as in dissertation research. In some fields students will need to have a second language for research, (to be determined in consultation with the student's primary advisor). Language courses are not applicable toward degree credit. Language courses are not applicable toward degree credit.

The DGS will inform the student of the results of the exam via the language course form (Appendix T), and will forward the form to the SAAH graduate office to be officially recorded with the College Graduate office. The form will be file in the student's degree folder.

Annual Review

The Annual Art History review (Appendix W) is a fact-finding review and part of an overall system of evaluation in the graduate program at UF. It relies in part on a student's completing an annual progress report, distributed by the DGS and due near the end of the spring semester. Although a student must maintain a B average, she/he must also pass the annual review in order to continue in his/her program of study. The student should be aware that the criteria and determination made at the review is not reflective of his/her grades or GPA at the time of the review. The annual review is a crucial component of the Ph.D. program, as all graduate students are expected to demonstrate the ability to critically reflect on their assimilated knowledge in the field, as well as outline their research interests before proceeding with the graduate degree.

The annual review of the Art History student's progress takes place at the end of the first year of graduate study (or at the end of the semester in which the student gains 18 UF credits) to determine the student's fitness for continuation in the program.

Qualifying Examination

The qualifying examination is prepared and evaluated by the full Supervisory Committee. It is both written and oral. Normally students take the exam in the spring term of their third year or at the beginning of the fall term of their fourth year. All members of the Supervisory Committee must be present with the student at the oral portion. The Supervisory Committee has the responsibility at this time of deciding whether the student is qualified to continue work toward the Ph.D. degree.

If a student fails the qualifying examination, the Graduate School must be notified. A re-examination may be requested, but it must be recommended by the Supervisory Committee and approved by the Graduate School. At least one semester of additional preparation is considered essential for re-examination. See the Director of Graduate Studies for Art History for further information on the qualifying exams.

Purpose of Qualifying Examination

Normally a student will enroll in a semester of ARH 7979 to prepare for the Qualifying Exams. The qualifying examination forms a bridge between coursework and the dissertation. Students must demonstrate both comprehensive knowledge of the works and issues of their primary field as well as more in-depth mastery of the problems, methods, and literature of a special focus within the primary field. Students will also be examined on either a secondary field within art history, a minor field outside art history, or a second special focus. If a student is to be examined in a minor field outside art history, then one member of the Supervisory Committee must be a faculty member in the department that represents that discipline at the University of Florida.

The Supervisory Committee Chair (or Dissertation Chair/Advisor) is in charge of the Supervisory Committee. In consultation with the student, the members of the Supervisory Committee schedule the dates of the exam, decide on the format of the oral examination, and determine the precise boundaries of the fields and special focus(es) to be covered. This must be done no later than four months prior to examination.

Qualifying Examination Format

The examination consists of four parts: three take-home written essays and an oral examination. Students prepare for the exam by preparing bibliographies for the three written essays. The first bibliography should include roughly 75 sources and can be organized into subheadings that outline the shape of the field; the second two bibliographies should have 30–50 sources each. In some instances, in consultation with their Dissertation Committee Chair, a student may present an annotated course syllabus of their own design in lieu of essay #2. At least one part of the exam, written or oral, should ask the student to demonstrate their knowledge of and facility in analyzing specific works of art or architecture, in particular through questions based around images of specific works. The parameters of the exam questions are as follows:

Essay #1:

This question tests the student's comprehensive knowledge of the works and issues of the primary field. The primary field will correspond to one of the customary geographically and chronologically bounded fields of art history. Typically, the student's dissertation will be a scholarly contribution to this primary field.

Essay #2:

This question tests the student's in-depth mastery of the problems, methods, bibliography, and historiography of a special focus within the primary field. The essay (or annotated course syllabus) may focus on a specific medium, theme, or critical category or concept, or it may narrow the geographic area and/or chronological range of the primary field.

Typically, the special focus will explore issues and bibliography relevant to the proposed dissertation topic.

Essay #3:

This question tests either a secondary field within art history, a minor field outside art history, or a second special focus within the primary field. A secondary field will correspond to one of the customary geographically and chronologically bounded fields of art history, like the primary field, and students will demonstrate the same level of comprehensive knowledge. The boundaries of the minor field will be determined in consultation with the member of the Supervisory Committee from that discipline. If this part of the exam explores a second special focus within the primary field, then it must be wholly distinct from the special focus in Essay #2 and it must demonstrate the same level of in-depth mastery of problems, methods, bibliography, and historiography.

Oral Examination, Part #4:

This part of the exam is an opportunity to discuss issues addressed or insufficiently addressed in the student's written responses. It may also be used to discuss new questions about the primary, secondary, or minor field or the special focus(es). It may ask questions about images to test a student's knowledge and facility in analyzing specific works of art and architecture in those fields. This is also an occasion for exploring the ways in which the student's study for the qualifying examination has shaped or modified his/her understanding of the proposed dissertation project.

The student will have 72 hours to complete the written parts of the exam (or 48 hours if the format only includes two take-home essays), so that each essay should correspond to one day of writing. The questions for all the written parts of the exam will be provided to the student on the morning of Day One of the examination (normally a Friday), and the student will transmit his/her responses to the Supervisory Committee on the morning of Day Four (normally the following Monday). The oral examination must be taken within a week of the completion of the written examination; it can be held no later than Day Eleven of the examination period. The Supervisory Committee will review the written examination before the oral examination, but no response will be given to the student before the end of the entire qualifying examination.

If the Supervisory Committee is not satisfied with one portion of the written examination, a student may be asked to redo that essay as a condition of passing the examination. This may take the form of the student's rewriting a question or answering a new question for that field or focus, and/or appending an annotated bibliography. At the discretion of the Supervisory Committee, the student may be given a longer period of time to complete this, but not more than one month (university holidays excluded).

If the Supervisory Committee finds two or more portions of the written examination unsatisfactory, the student fails the qualifying examination.

In consultation with the Dissertation Committee Chair, the student may choose to present their dissertation project for required approval on the day of the Oral Examination.

The entire Supervisory Committee must be present at the Oral Examination. Members of the committee may plan to be present virtually through web conferencing or other technology, but the Chair of the Supervisory Committee may plan to be present virtually only if a Co-Chair from our department is present in person to serve in the Chair's stead. These guidelines for Supervisory Committee attendance are based on the 2007-2008 Graduate School Handbook and communications with the Graduate School in Spring 2008. Any changes to Graduate School policy supersede these guidelines.

Dissertation Proposal

Students are required to present a draft of their Dissertation Proposal (generally 12–15 pages in length) to their supervisory committee. This may be scheduled during the Oral Examination. The proposal shall include:

- An outline of the proposed research and procedures
- A statement of the significance of the project
- A preliminary bibliography

After reviewing the proposal presented and questioning the student about their proposal, the committee will confer in private and vote to:

- To pass the student on to dissertation work
- To require adjustments to the student's program and re-review prior to the beginning of the dissertation year
- To dismiss the student from the program based on academic record, exam performance and presentation to the committee

Registration in Research Courses

ARH 7979 is open to doctoral students who have not yet been admitted to candidacy. ARH 7980 is reserved for doctoral students who have been admitted to candidacy. Students enrolled in ARH 7979 during the term they qualify for candidacy will stay in this course unless the SA+AH elects to change their enrollment to Research for Doctoral Dissertation (ARH 7980).

Admission to Candidacy

A graduate student does not become a candidate for the Ph.D. until granted formal admission to candidacy. Such admission requires the approval of the student's Supervisory Committee, the director of the SA+AH, the dean of the college and the dean of the graduate school. The approval must be based on:

- The academic record of the student
- The opinion of the Supervisory Committee concerning overall fitness for candidacy
- An approved dissertation topic
- A qualifying examination as described above

Degree Application

All degree candidates must complete the online degree application. Care must be taken to cite the correct degree, year and term. Apply online through ONE.UF.

Dissertation

The recommended length is 250–300 pages.

Each student is responsible for conforming to regulations governing format, final term procedures and dates for submitting his/her dissertation to his/her Supervisory Committee.

Students MUST follow the procedures outlined online:

<http://graduateschool.ufl.edu/about-us/offices/editorial/thesis-and-dissertation/>

Responsibilities of the Supervisory Committee and Chair

It is the responsibility of the Chair of the Supervisory Committee to review the initial rough drafts of the report/thesis with the student and make suggestions for improvement before the report is distributed to the Supervisory Committee.

The student presents the final draft of the dissertation to the other member(s) of the Supervisory Committee for final review before the Oral Defense. It should require no more than two meetings to make additional suggestions to the student and to approve the report.

The Dissertation must be defended prior to final submission. (First submission can take place before the defense, with the Committee Chair's consent.)

Preparation for Final Examination/Defense

Upon submission of the first full draft of the dissertation, the student will schedule an oral defense date with his/her Supervisory Committee Chair.

Oral Defense

Upon completion of the Chair-approved copy of the dissertation, the student will schedule an oral defense date in consultation with their Chair and Supervisory Committee. The oral defense will include a 20-minute formal presentation of the Dissertation work. All members of the Committee must be present. The SA+AH office announces the date and time of the oral defense and it is open to the public.

After the presentation, members of the Committee will ask the student questions pertaining to the work, and then confer in private to accept the dissertation, to require further changes, or to reject it.

Upon successful completion of the Oral Defense, a Final Examination Form will be signed by the Supervisory Committee and forwarded to the SA+AH office for the Director's signature. Unanimous approval is required.

Following Supervisory Committee approval, the student must submit the dissertation to the University, following the Graduate School requirements

The Director Graduate Studies (DGS) must approve all courses for Art Education. To be admitted to candidacy, students must pass a First Year Review. The program culminates with a Thesis or Project in Lieu of Thesis.

Supervisory Committees:

Temporary Supervisory Committee: All students are assigned a temporary supervisory committee when they enter the program. This committee advises them in all matters related to their course work up to the first-year review.

First Year Review Committee: Assigned by the DGS are faculty who will review students' responses to the first-year review questions.

Research Supervisory Committee: Selected by the student in regard to their research interests. There must be at least 1 faculty from art education on this committee.

First Year Review

The first-year Art Education review is a fact-finding review and part of an overall system of evaluation in the graduate program at UF. Although a student must maintain a B average, she/he must also pass the first-year review in order to continue in his/her program of study. The student should be aware that the criteria and determination made at the review is not reflective of his/her grades or GPA at the time of the review. The first-year review is a crucial component of the Masters, as all graduate students are expected to demonstrate the ability to critically reflect on their assimilated knowledge in the field, as well as outline their research interests before proceeding with the graduate degree.

In the Art Education area of the SA+AH, the first-year review committee is made up of two members of the Art Education faculty, with the Director of Graduate Studies designated as the committee organizer. The organizer works with the student to inform, facilitate and lead the review meeting.

The first-year review of the Art Education student's progress takes place at the end of the first-year of graduate study (or at the end of the semester in which the student gains 18 UF credits) to determine the student's fitness for continuation in the program.

Submitting Responses:

The first-year review committee will provide questions reflective of the student's first-year's art education studies at UF. These questions should be responded to in writing and submitted, via the CANVAS first-year review site, to the first-year review committee.

The student will have a twenty-four-hour (24) period to respond in writing to the two questions. (See below for the requirements for formatting these documents.) The student will then submit the two Microsoft Word documents to Canvas Assignment drop boxes. Responses will automatically go through Turnitin and a report will be generated.

Format:

Q#1 place question here

Response: 12pt type, double space, 1-inch margins.

Q#2 place question here

Response: 12pt type, double space, 1-inch margins.

During the following week the first-year review committee will schedule a one-hour meeting with the student to discuss his/her written responses and performance during the first-year. During the review meeting, the committee will question the student about their graduate work and written responses to each of the 2 questions. Following this discussion, the committee will meet without the student present to discuss the student's responses and progress in the program. The committee will then recommend one of the following options to the School of Art and Art History Director:

Outcomes: The three possible outcomes (based on majority vote) of this discussion are as follows:

OPTION 1: PASS

The student's performance meets the standards expected during the first-year of graduate study.

OPTION 2: RE-REVIEW

The student's performance does not meet the standards expected in the graduate program to pass on to the second year at this time.

Note: The re-review must take place prior to the beginning of the following semester (fall/spring).

OPTION 3: DISMISS

To dismiss the student from the program based on unsatisfactory completion of the first-year review (no re-review).

Caucus

The committee will caucus to discuss the review without the student present, complete a ballot, and turn the ballot into the coordinator. Following the vote, the committee will meet with the student to discuss their recommendations and give the student critical feedback about his/her work.

Notification

Students will receive unofficial notification of the results of the review following the review. All students will receive official continuance notification from the School Director and Graduate Information Office by letter in a timely fashion, preferably within two (2) weeks of the review, but no later than the end of the semester.

Those students who will be continuing on to their second year of study must name a Supervisory Committee and file the Supervisory Committee Form with the Director of Graduate Studies by the end of the semester. The Supervisory Committee Form will be placed in the student's academic folder. (Note: The student may make changes in her/his Supervisory Committee before the start of the final semester).

The Re-Review Process

If the student is asked to re-review by their First-Year Review Committee, the re-review will be scheduled prior to the start of the following (fall/spring) semester (prior to the start of the semester's classes) for a final decision.

The Re-review process will be similar to the previous review process. The student will be given one question to respond to in writing. This response as well as a written statement by the student addressing the earlier concerns expressed by the Review Committee will be used in the re-review process. The committee will then ask any questions to the student about his/her work and progress since the last meeting. The committee will then meet without the student present to discuss their following two options:

- to allow the student to proceed with his/her studies and research work according to schedule.
- to dismiss the student from the program based on academic performance and presentation to the committee.

After deliberation, the committee will present their results informally to the student with formal notification by the Graduate Coordinator and Director. If the student passes, then he/she will continue with the program and a letter stating that the student has met required adjustments will be placed in his/her academic folder. If the student does not pass the review, they will be denied further registration as a graduate student.

Supervisory Committees

The student's supervisory committee should be approved by the Director of Graduate Studies via the Supervisory Committee Form (Appendix M) as soon as possible after the student has been admitted to graduate school but no later than the second semester of graduate study.

If a student takes fewer than 12 credits in the first term, the deadline date to appoint a supervisory committee is the end of the term in which he/she has accumulated 12 or more credits or at the end of the second semester. The full committee including Art Education graduate faculty chair and second member should be approved following the First Year Review results, and prior to graduate research.

Supervisory Committees are initiated by the student. The student may want to confer first with the program DGS about which faculty would be the best fit for the student's interests. Students should invite a faculty member to chair their Supervisory Committee. If the faculty member agrees to chair, they will then advise about additional committee members who should be asked to serve on the committee. Only those members of the faculty who have been appointed to the Graduate Faculty may serve as chair of a supervisory committee. In addition, the chair must be a graduate faculty member from the student's area of concentration. Your committee must contain at least two members. Additional members may be from SA+AH or from another UF college, provided they are Graduate Faculty and their expertise relates to the student's research.

If a minor is designated, the committee must include one Graduate Faculty member from the minor department.

A student may formally amend his/her committee for good reason before the start of the final semester and no later than 2 months before the final oral defense.

Last Semester (2nd year)

MA Requirements for Graduation

It is essential that all candidates check with the College of The Arts Admissions Director to be sure that all requirements for graduation have been met or will be met in the final semester. Petitions of degree requirements and transfer of credit will be entertained by the Graduate School no later than the term preceding the one in which the candidate is to receive the degree. In addition students need to submit a change of course name form as needed.

Registration

MA students must enroll in ARE 6973 (Project In Lieu of Thesis) or ARE 6971 (Thesis) during the term of the final examination (oral defense). During this term the defense is publicly announced 10 days prior and then presented to the public. Once the committee agrees this has been completed successfully, a supporting paper is finalized, and all graduation requirements are met and the degree is conferred.

Project/Thesis Proposal

Students are required to present a draft of their Project in Lieu of Thesis/Thesis proposal as well as make an oral presentation to their Project in Lieu of Thesis or Thesis committee. The proposal paper will use the current Art Education Proposal paper template that include:

- a discussion of their development thus far at the University;
- a set of researchable questions
- an outline of the proposed research and procedures;
- a statement of the purpose and significance of the project.
- a time line for completion of Thesis or Project in Lieu of Thesis

Research (Graduate candidate in Art Education)

A research project and thesis for a Master’s Degree in Art Education is a process of guided systematic questioning and inquiry, creative and critical activity and scholarship, exploration and discovery through investigation of a subject area, experimentation, and the production of findings as a result of these inquiry and questioning process.

After reviewing the work presented and questioning the student about their proposed research work, the committee will select one of the following options and submit the result to the Graduate Coordination Office and student:

- to pass the student on to thesis work;
- to require adjustments to the student’s program,
- to dismiss the student from the program based on academic performance and presentation to the committee.

Project/Thesis Report

Each student is responsible for conforming to Graduate School regulations governing format, final term procedures and dates for submitting their project report to their Supervisory Committee. This paper follows the guidelines of the template for final Project in Lieu of Theses and Thesis (Graduate Templates).

This paper includes the following sections:

- a discussion of the research project;

- a set of researchable questions
- an outline of the proposed research and procedures;
- a statement of the purpose and significance of the project.
- A set of findings
- Demonstration resulting knowledge or insights to the field of art education/
- A reflection on outcome and future goals

Students who are doing a Thesis MUST follow the ETD submission procedures found below.
Graduate School Electronic Thesis and Dissertation Deadlines

Responsibilities of the Supervisory Committee and Chair

It is the responsibility of the Chair of the Supervisory Committee to review the initial rough drafts of the report/thesis with the student, confirm Supervisory Committee members have been filed with the SA+AH Graduate Office, are recorded in GIMS, and to make suggestions for improvement before the report is distributed to the Supervisory Committee.

The student presents the final working draft once approved by the Chair of the Committee of the report/thesis to the other member(s) of the Supervisory Committee for final review before the Oral Defense. The final working draft should require no more than two meetings to make additional suggestions to the student and to approve the report.

The Project Report/Thesis must be defended and in final form prior to submission.

Deadlines

The Graduate School issues Deadline Dates. These deadlines are firm. Additional deadline dates are issued by the College of The Arts and the School of Art and Art History.

Preparation for Oral Defense

Students, in consultation with their Committee Chairs, should schedule their oral defense prior to graduate school deadlines and to allow time to make all corrections and meet final submission deadlines.

Abstract

The student must write a one or two page abstract about his/her project in lieu of thesis/thesis. See Appendix N (thesis format) and Appendix O (project format) for the appropriate format.

The Chair of the Supervisory Committee and all the members must approve the abstract.

Oral Defense

Upon submission of the final copy of the project in lieu of thesis support paper, the student will schedule an oral defense date with their Supervisory Committee Chair. The oral defense will be a formal presentation of the Project in Lieu of Thesis work or Thesis. The Supervisory Committee Chair must be present. The Supervisory Committee Chair and candidate will invite other members of the graduate faculty to attend, and the oral defense is publicly announced and is open to the public.

The oral defense should be scheduled at least one week before the final project in lieu of thesis support paper is due in the COTA Graduate Admissions designated eLearning dropbox. This should permit time for the student to make any corrections that were suggested at their defense and to meet final submission deadlines.

The student will give a 15 to 20 minute formal presentation that addresses the progress of their work. It is expected that they will demonstrate how the creative project relates to their past work and how the research problem has been defined, researched, and resolved in the works presented.

After the presentation, members of the Committee will ask the student questions pertaining to their work, and then confer in private to accept the project, to require further changes, or to reject it.

Upon successful completion of the Oral Defense, a Final Examination Form will be signed by the Supervisory Committee and forwarded to the College of the Arts Admissions Director.

Final Submission of Project in Lieu of Thesis and or Thesis Report

After final approval of changes by the supervisory committee, and no later than the date specified, candidates must submit the following materials to the COTA Graduate Office:

- Supervisory Committee Approved Electronic File (PDF)

These documents are kept electronically in the Architecture and Fine Arts Library online holdings. More copies may be required if individual Committee members request them. Please see additional submissions options in Appendix V.

It is recommended that all graduate candidates consider submitting their final research projects and thesis to the UF repository. This is an opportunity to be archived within the research and scholarship that is conducted at The University of Florida.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Master of Arts in Museum Studies

The MA in Museum Studies consists of both academic preparation and practical experience. The curriculum allows students the opportunity to do graduate work that shapes their interdisciplinary interests (art, art history, anthropology, history, the natural sciences, museum education, historic preservation, and more) and at the same time to complete a concentrated study in professional museum practices.

Degree requirements

The MA in Museum Studies requires 48 credit hours including:

15 credits in museum studies courses:

- Introduction to Museum Studies (3)
- Collections (3)
- Museum Education (3)
- Exhibitions (3)
- Electives (3)

15 graduate credits in disciplinary focus

6 credits of Internship

6 credits of Electives

6 credits of Thesis or Project in Lieu of Thesis

Several on and off campus sites provide the program with laboratories for training students in museum work, including the The Samuel P. Harn Museum of Art, The Matheson, The Florida Museum of Natural History, University Galleries, and "the gallery" at the Reitz Union.

Internship

Each student must complete a 6-credit internship of 320 to 400 hours at an approved institution. In this experience the student must be assigned to specific projects in which he/she will gain first-hand experience in museum work. The Samuel P. Harn Museum of Art or the Florida Museum of Natural History may be able to oversee a few of these interns, but most students research opportunities to apply for internships at museums throughout the United States or abroad.

Supervisory Committees

The student's supervisory committee should be appointed as soon as possible after the student has been admitted to graduate school but no later than the second semester of graduate study. If a student takes fewer than 12 credits in the first term, the deadline date to appoint a supervisory committee is the end of the term in which he/she has accumulated 12 or more credits or at the end of the second semester.

Supervisory Committees are initiated by the student. The student may want to confer first with the program DGS about which faculty would be the best fit for the student's interests. Students should invite a faculty member to chair their Supervisory Committee. If the faculty member agrees to chair, they will then advise about additional committee members who should be asked to serve on the committee. Only those members of the faculty who have been appointed to the Graduate Faculty may serve as chair of a supervisory committee. In addition, the chair must be a graduate faculty member from the student's area of concentration. Your committee must contain at least two members. Additional members may be from SA+AH or from another UF college, provided they are Graduate Faculty and their expertise relates to the student's research.

If a minor is designated, the committee must include one Graduate Faculty member from the minor department.

A student may formally amend his/her committee for good reason before the start of the final semester and no later than 2 months before the final oral defense.

Last Semester MA Requirements for Graduation

It is essential that all candidates check with the College of The Arts Senior Associate in Graduate Studies to be sure that all requirements for graduation have been met or will be met in the final semester. Petitions of degree requirements and transfer of credit will be entertained by the Graduate School no later than the term preceding the one in which the candidate is to receive the degree.

Deadlines

The Graduate School issues Deadline Dates. These deadlines are firm. Additional deadline dates are issued by the College of The Arts and the School of Art and Art History.

Registration

MA students must enroll in ARE 6973 (Project In Lieu of Thesis) or ARH 6971 (Research for Masters Thesis) during the term the final examination (oral defense) is given and the degree is conferred.

Degree Application

All degree candidates must complete the online degree application. Care must be taken to cite the correct degree, year and term. Apply online through ONE.UF.

After reviewing the work presented and questioning the student about his/her work, the committee will decide on one of the following options:

- to pass the student on to thesis work;
- to require adjustments to the student's program;
- to dismiss the student from the program based on academic performance and presentation to the committee.

Responsibilities of the Supervisory Committee and Chair

It is the responsibility of the Chair of the Supervisory Committee to review the initial rough drafts of the report/thesis with the student and make suggestions for improvement before the report is distributed to the Supervisory Committee.

The student presents the final draft of the report/thesis to the other member(s) of the Supervisory Committee for final review before the Oral Defense. It should require no more than two meetings to make additional suggestions to the student and to approve the report.

The Project Report/Thesis must be defended and in final form prior to submission.

The student must write a one or two page abstract about his/her project in lieu of thesis/thesis approved by the Supervisory Committee Chair. See Appendix N (thesis format) or Appendix O (project format) for the appropriate format. Abstracts of more than one page should not be stapled.

Preparation for Oral Defense

Students, in consultation with their Committee Chair, should schedule their oral defense to allow time to make all corrections and meet final submission deadlines.

Oral Defense

Upon submission of the final draft of the project report or thesis, the student will schedule an oral defense date with his/her Supervisory Committee Chair. The oral defense will be a formal presentation of the Project in Lieu of Thesis or Thesis work. All members of the Committee must be present. DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: Master of Fine Arts - Design & Visual Communications (MXD)

The text in this handbook is supplemented by additional resources, processes, and information in a Canvas sandbox and Microsoft Teams space specifically for the MXD. Unless explicitly instructed otherwise, all materials you create during the MXD should be designed, including written materials—think like a designer, be a designer, breathe design 24/7.

Overview

The Master of Fine Arts degree in Design and Visual Communications (MFA/DVC or the MXD) is a terminal degree with the goal of preparing designers to address complex issues and concerns through an expanded design framework. The curriculum envisions design as an integrated activity, emphasizing co-design and horizontal practices in its teaching and application of research, theory, methods, and practice. Through this program, we use design as a catalyst for change and sustainable development to make Florida, and the world, better through design. We encourage students to consider how what they create, and learn, with others might be transferrable to other contexts. Students will encounter the world through a framework that is respectful of context and culture, and that values collaboration and many knowledges as ways of making design that is responsible and meaningful.

Curriculum

This program offers two-and three-year residency tracks, selected at the time of application and confirmed upon admission. The main differences are time to degree, funding, and teaching opportunities. Students on the two-year track enroll in 12–15 credits during the academic year and are likely self-funded or receive external scholarships. With this pace, outside employment is discouraged. Students who receive funding (graduate assistantships) from the University of Florida or who three-year track will enroll in 9 credits during the fall and spring semesters and. Both tracks allow for summer coursework. Students who wish to obtain teaching experience should pursue the three-year track and a graduate assistantship (teaching assignments are based on faculty recommendation and availability). Options to teach in the summer are subject to availability.

The MXD requires a minimum of 60 credit hours distributed as follows:

- 12 hours of GRA 6930: Seminar (different titles each semester)
- 12 hours of GRA 6931: Research and Practice
- 15 hours of GRA6973: Project-in-lieu-of-thesis research
- 21 hours of elective coursework (Appropriate to the student’s professional development goals and interests;
must be approved by the DGS)

All major coursework is designed to provide opportunities for professional development in design. Students develop knowledge in design theory, methods, discourse, and issues in the seminar courses. The research & practice courses provide frameworks and opportunities to work respectfully with people in context. Coursework may be integrated and connected. Students will study and use a range of methods appropriate for an expanded design practice. Their use is addressed and applied through discussions, case studies, writing, fieldwork, project work, deliverables, and presentations. Projects will engage students to design in a complex environment for diverse audiences and explore the many aspects necessary to design for ‘real world problems’ and constraints. Throughout the program, students will be mentored in ways to disseminate research at conferences and in publications in order to share their work and build their careers. Optional practica provide an opportunity to conduct research and practice with an approved entity (organization, faculty member, etc.); and elective courses are intended to support an area of interest and expertise.

The program's director (DGS) may recommend specific courses to support the student's knowledge-base (for example, in design, writing, subject matter knowledge, and/or teaching). Each student will prepare an Independent Development Plan (IDP) and discuss it with the DGS at the beginning and end of each academic year (September and April). All electives should reflect the goals stated in the IDP and must be approved by the DGS prior to registration.

Project & Supervisory Committee

The program culminates with a 15-credit project-in-lieu-of-thesis, which is selected, researched, and carried out under the direction of the supervisory chair and committee. This committee is formed in consultation with the program's director of graduate studies during the first year for students on the two-year track and during the second year for students on the three-year track. The objective is to contribute original research and disseminate it to the field.

Only those members appointed to the Graduate Faculty may serve as chair of a supervisory committee. The chair must be a graduate faculty member from the MXD Program (Design & Visual Communications/Graphic Design) and must have IRB certification prior to appointment. Your committee must contain at least two members from the MXD program. A co-chair is possible but rare and requires approval. Additionally, a co-chair from the same department may be appointed to serve during the absence of the supervisory committee chair. Co-chairs from outside the program may not substitute for the chair. If a minor is designated, the committee should include one Graduate Faculty member from the minor department. Other members may be added with approval of the supervisory committee chair. Once committee members are approved and agree to serve, the student should submit the form to the program DGS for final processing. A form for submitting committee member names is available in the (Appendix M). With approval from the DGS, a committee may be amended for good reason before the start of the final semester.

Guidelines on how to select a committee chair as well as processes with timelines are available on Canvas. Make yourself familiar with these during your first semester. Even if you do not have your project in mind yet, you want to get to know faculty, their interests, and expertise.

Assessment & Reviews

Student achievement is assessed in multiple ways from admission through graduation. University and program regulations state that a student must achieve a 3.0 GPA in order to graduate from the program, which is the result of assessment in courses. In addition, students must present their work product at the end of each semester to a faculty review committee who determines if the student, on the whole, is making sufficient progress towards candidacy and completion. Reviews consider the momentum, direction, and performance as a whole. Instructions and the rubric for the review is available on Canvas/Teams. This review is independent of grades but will naturally reflect performance in courses and not only materials presented during the review. Outcomes of semester reviews include continuation based on appropriate progress; recommendations for improvement; and recommendation of dismissal for continued performance below expectations.

Notification: Students will receive unofficial notification of the results of the review. The DGS will report the results to Graduate Coordinator by letter in a timely fashion, preferably within two (2) weeks of the review, but no later than the end of the semester.

Continuance: The student will receive continuance notification from the School Director and the Graduate Coordinator prior to the end of the spring semester of the first two years.

Re-Review for 1st or 2nd year students: If a re-review is necessary, the re-review must take place early in the following semester (fall/spring). The time and date must be stated in the letter submitted to the SA+AH graduate office. The format of the re-review will be the same as the first review. A letter will be sent by the DGS to the Graduate Coordinator in a timely fashion, preferably within one week of the review. In consultation with the student, the director will decide to allow the student to continue or to dismiss the student from the program, based on his/her packet and/or academic performance.

Final Semester of Enrollment

It is essential that all candidates check with the Graduate Director of the College of The Arts to be sure that all requirements for graduation have been met or will be met in the final semester. Petitions of degree requirements and transfer of credit will be entertained by the Graduate School no later than the second to last term in which the candidate is to receive the degree. In other words, any requests must be made early in the semester before the last (ex: spring or summer semester graduation, a request should be made in September of the final year and approval is required before the fall semester ends).

Deadlines: The Graduate School issues deadline dates for each term. These deadlines are firm. Additional deadline dates are issued by the College of The Arts and the School of Art and Art History. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of deadlines.

Registration: MXD students must enroll in GRA6973 (Project In Lieu of Thesis) during the term the final examination (oral defense) is given and the degree is conferred.

Degree Application: All MFA degree candidates must apply on line through ONE.UF. Care must be taken to cite the correct degree, year and term.

PROJECT IN LIEU OF THESIS (GRA 6973)

Each student is responsible for conforming to regulations governing format, final term procedures and dates for submitting their project report to his/her Supervisory Committee. It is advisable to create a calendar prior to the final year. The form of the report must be agreed upon by the Supervisory Committee Chair and must include a visual description of the project. The final document supporting the project is a written and designed document that appropriately communicates the project (i.e., not a double-spaced paper). The Canvas website includes examples of previous final project documents for students in the program. Review these during your first year of study.

Responsibilities of the Supervisory Committee and Chair: It is the responsibility of the Chair of the Supervisory Committee to review the initial rough drafts of the report with the student and make suggestions for improvement before the report is distributed to the Supervisory Committee. The chair also works with the student to review appropriate writing and citation styles (using the Chicago Manual of Style) are met and academic integrity is honored. Visits to the UF Writing Studio, a writing course, or editorial assistance may be advised. The student presents the final copy of the report to the other member(s) of the Supervisory Committee for final review before the Oral Defense. It should require no more than two meetings to make additional suggestions to the student and to approve the report. The Project Report must be defended and in final form prior to submission.

Preparation for Oral Defense: In consultation with their Committee Chair, the student schedules the oral defense. Time to make all corrections and meet final submission deadlines should be considered.

Abstract: The student must write a one-page abstract about his/her project in lieu of thesis. See Appendix O for the appropriate format. The Chair of the Supervisory Committee and all the members must approve the abstract. Once the Committee has approved the abstract, students will submit a copy to the DGS, Chair, and Graduate Coordinator.

Oral Defense: Upon submission of the final copy of the project report, the student will schedule an oral defense date with his/her Supervisory Committee Chair. The oral defense will be a formal presentation of the Project in Lieu of Thesis work. All members of the Committee on file with Graduate school MUST be present. The Supervisory Committee Chair will invite other members of the graduate faculty to attend, and the oral defense is open to the public. After the presentation, members of the Committee will ask the student questions pertaining to his/her work, and then confer in private to accept the project, to require further changes, or to reject it. Upon successful completion of the Oral Defense, a Final Examination Form will be signed by the Supervisory Committee and forwarded to the SA+AH for the Director's signature.

Public Dissemination of Project: All students are required to publicly disseminate their project-in-lieu-of-thesis prior to the end of their final semester. The format and audience varies based on the project and is confirmed with the supervisory committee. Invitations are extended to the college community at large in addition to specific audiences who will most benefit from learning about your work. This is an important way to make impact, share your findings, generate interest in your project work and/or topic, inform the public about design, and contribute to the public good.

Final Submission of Project in Lieu of Thesis Report: After final approval of changes by the supervisory committee, and no later than the date specified, candidates must submit the following materials to the COTA Graduate Office: Supervisory Committee Approved Electronic File (PDF) and signed Final Examination Report Form and signature page. These documents are then forwarded to the College of the Arts Graduate Office.

The MXD on Canvas/Teams: The text in this handbook is an overview of the program. It is supplemented by additional resources, processes, and information in a Canvas sandbox and Microsoft Teams space specifically for the MXD. If you do not see this during the first weeks of your first semester, contact the DGS for assistance.

Graduate Student Assignment Process

Graduate assignments expose students to a range of opportunities while they are at the SA+AH. Among these are assisting with teaching in both the areas and WARP, being instructor of record, assisting with the management of their programs as an area assistant, assisting with the University Galleries, and occasionally working alongside faculty assisting with their research. Assignments are based on School needs, faculty recommendations, and student input.

- Midway through Fall and Spring semesters, the Studio Program Head sends the area faculty the list of courses that will be taught in the following semester and asks the faculty to place area graduate students on the course schedules for grad teaching assignments lab/shop support positions. When assigning graduate students, the studio faculty consider the needs of the area.
- Currently enrolled graduate students fill in a form asking their preference of assignment: teaching, University Gallery and the office. Student preferred assignments will be taken into consideration, but do not mandate their assignment.
- The Studio Program Head, Studio Director of Graduate Studies, Director of Graduate Teaching, and the Associate Director and/or Director meet and review the faculty recommendations. Assignments are based on the overall needs of the program and take into consideration when possible the preferences of the graduate students.
- Any potential changes that deviate from the faculty recommendations for grad assignments are discussed with area faculty.
- SA+AH Administration finalizes assignments and delivers them to grads.
- Fall assignments for current grads are generally sent out by the 3rd week of March. Summer assignments for 12-month fellows are typically sent out mid-to late February. Spring schedules are finalized mid-October and spring assignments should be sent out by the first week of November. Semester assignments generally do not have hours split between areas.

Faculty may request research assistance by completing a research proposal and submitting to the SAAH Director for approval. Research assignments are for one semester only and are reserved for 2nd or 3rd year grads.

Five pedagogical/creative development hours a week (.50FTE assignment) are allotted to attend the mandatory monthly group meeting, individual meetings with the DGT, and occasionally may include a substitute teaching assignment. Students meet one-on-one with the DGT to “check in” about issues related to the classes they are teaching. The DGT also uses these monthly meetings to discuss the development of the student’s pedagogy.

First Year Review

First year reviews are one part of an overall system of evaluation within the Studio Area in SAAH. A student must maintain a B average and she/he/they must also pass the first-year review in order to continue in their program of study.

Convening the First Year Review Committee

The SA+AH will assign the First Year Review Committees at the end of the student’s first semester in residence, or no later than six (4) weeks into the second semester. At least one member of the review committee will be from the student’s area of specialization with two to three graduate faculty members from other areas. Committees are determined by the administrative staff in conversation with the Director of Graduate Studies in Studio and communicated to graduate students and faculty by Director of Graduate Studies.

Preparing for the First Year Review

The First Year Review of the student's progress will take place at the end of the first year of graduate study (or at the end of the first two semesters) to determine the student's fitness for continuation. Student will provide to the committee a one-page written artist statement concerning his/her/their work, a resume at least 24 hours prior to the review meeting time.

First Year Review Meeting Process

The time allotted for the First Year Review meeting is 45-60 minutes. At the outset of the meeting, the chair of the first-year review verbally informs the student of the three potential outcomes of the review. Next, the student gives a 20-minute, live, formal presentation of work created since beginning their graduate program in SAAH. (It is advisable to speak with the member of the committee from your area to determine the format of the presentation of the work). The committee then questions the student about his/her/their graduate work for approximately 20 minutes. Finally, the committee will meet privately for to discuss the student's work and progress to ultimately vote one of the following options:

1. Pass and allow the student to proceed with his/her research work according to schedule
2. Re-review the student and require adjustments to the student's program.
3. Dismiss the student from the program based on unsatisfactory completion of the first-year review (With the dismiss option, there is no re-review.).

The committee will meet with the student to discuss the committee's decision and give the student critical feedback about his/her work. Please see Appendix W for additional information.

Notification of Results of First Year Review

Option 1 PASS

Students will receive unofficial verbal notification of the results of the review from the committee following the review. All students will receive an official continuance or re-review notification letter from the School Director and Graduate Information Coordinator prior to the end of the spring semester or the semester in which the review was conducted.

The students should be aware that the criteria and determination made at the review is not reflective of the students' grades or GPA at the time of the review.

Each First Year Review Committee Chair reports the results to Graduate Information Coordinator and the Director of Graduate Studies by filling out the First-year Review Worksheet in a timely fashion, preferably within two (2) weeks of the review, but no later than the end of the semester. The student will receive continuance notification from the School Director and the Graduate Information Coordinator prior to the end of the semester.

Those students who will be continuing on to their second year of study must begin the process of choosing a Supervisory Committee and file the Supervisory Committee Form with the Director of Graduate Studies by the end of fall semester of the second year or after 27 credits. The Supervisory Committee Form will be placed in the student's virtual academic folder on Canvas. (Note: The student may make changes in her/his/their Supervisory Committee before the start of the final semester of their third year.).

Option 2: RE_REVIEW for FIRST YEAR STUDENTS

Each First-year Review Committee Chair reports the results to Graduate Information Coordinator and the Director of Graduate Studies by filling out the First-year Review Worksheet AND a list of suggestions for improvement as well as additional resources for research. Both the Worksheet and the suggestions/resource should be sent to Graduate Information Coordinator and the Director of Graduate Studies in a timely fashion, as soon as possible, preferably within two (2) weeks of the review, but no later than the end of the semester. The re-review must take place prior to the beginning of the following semester (fall/spring). The time and date of the re-review must be stated in the First Year Review Worksheet submitted to the SA+AH graduate office. An official notification letter will be sent by Director reporting the results to the student, the Director of Graduate Studies, and to the Graduate Information Coordinator in a timely fashion, preferably within two weeks of the review. The format of the re-review will be the same as the first review. If a faculty who is either a member or chair of the first review is unable to attend for any reason, an alternate must be chosen in consultation with the Graduate Information Coordinator and the student must be notified within one week of the re-review.

There are only two options for the re-review. The First Year Review Committee in consultation with the director will make one of the following decisions for the re-review:

1. to allow the student to continue,
2. to dismiss the student from the program, based on their packet and/or academic performance.

If a student passes the re-review, the student is verbally notified at the re-review by the chair of the First-year Review committee. The chair of the First-year Review committee also informs the Graduate Coordinator and the Director of Graduate Studies of the result. The Director then reports the results to the student in a written letter.

If a student fails the re-review, the student is verbally notified at the end of the re-review by the chair of the First-year Review committee. The chair of the First-year Review committee also informs the Graduate Information Coordinator and the Director of Graduate Studies and the Director of the result. The Director or Assistant Director (if applicable) meets face-to-face with student to discuss the results and the student is dismissed from the program.

Supervisory Committees

A student should begin to assemble a supervisory committee after passing their First Year Review. If a student takes fewer than 12 credits in the first term, the deadline date to appoint a supervisory committee is the end of the term in which he/she has accumulated 12 or more credits or at the end of the second semester.

Students need to choose a chair and one member prior to scheduling their Second Year Review. The committee must contain at least two members. A student must have a Supervisory Committee before they can register for thesis credits. Students may add more committee members no later than the end of the fifth semester of their graduate study. Supervisory committees are initiated by the student. Members of the faculty who have been appointed to the Graduate Faculty may serve as chair and/or members of a supervisory committee. In addition, it is recommended, though not mandatory that the chair must be a graduate faculty member from the student's area of concentration. Additional members may be from SA+AH or from another UF college, provided they are Graduate Faculty and their expertise relates to the student's research. If a student is pursuing a minor or a certificate, it is strongly suggested that the student include a faculty from the department where they are pursuing a minor or certificate. At least two committee members must be from the SA+AH.

When a student has selected their committee members, they should submit the form to the Graduate Information Coordinator for final processing. A form for submitting committee member names is available in Appendix M. This information will be available on GIMS and it is the student's responsibility to make sure that paperwork is handed in and complete as well as to verify their committee membership on GIMS (<https://gradschool.ufl.edu/gimsportal/gatorlink/portal.asp>).

A student may amend their committee for good reason before the start of the final semester. Major changes or amendments to the committee should be discussed with the Committee Chair and the DGS.

Role of Supervisory Chair

UF's Graduate Student Handbook (pages 27-28) contains a detailed description of the professional relationship between the supervisory committee chair. The handbook also contains guidelines to assist graduate students in choosing a faculty member as their chair. Below are bulleted points that describe the role of chair for a project in lieu of thesis as students move through years two and three of their MFA program.

In the second year, the supervisory committee chair:

- Meets with graduate student for studio visits to discuss work and research. It is the responsibility of the graduate student to initiate studio visits.
- May advise and suggest courses relevant to the student's research
- Informs graduate students of the necessary materials to prepare for the 2nd year review
- Schedules and facilitates re-review as necessary.
- Communicates the results of the review and the re-review (if applicable)

In the third year, the supervisory committee chair:

- Meets with graduate student for studio visits to discuss work and research. It is the responsibility of the graduate student to initiate studio visits.
- Reviews as needed with graduate student, documents such as annotated bibliographies, readings and the research timeline leading up to the MFA exhibition.
- Reviews draft(s) of thesis proposal plan (exhibition/presentation of research) with the graduate student.
- It is the responsibility of the grad student to seek support for their writing by using the Writing Center if necessary.
- Meets with graduate student and other committee members to finalize the draft of thesis proposal in the semester that precedes the MFA Exhibition and graduation.
- Reviews and advises as needed the publicity and timeline for their MFA show.
- Reviews and suggests revisions to the Project-in-lieu of Thesis Project Abstract and Project-in-lieu of Thesis Project Report
- Facilitates Oral Defense, submit oral defense and written Project-in-lieu of Thesis Project Report approval forms to Graduate Information Officer.

Second Year Review

All students must maintain a B average to continue in their program of study. Second year reviews are one part of an overall system of evaluation. In addition to maintaining a B average, students must form a Thesis Supervisory Committee before convening the Second Year Review and then pass the Second Year Review in order to continue in their program of study.

Convening the Second Year Review Committee

Prior to the Second Year Review, the student assembles a Thesis Supervisory Committee constituted by a Chair and at least one member of the graduate faculty. The formation of this committee (that includes a chair and a member) must be undertaken before the first week of March in the second year prior to the Second Year Review – this formation signals the students' transition to thesis project research and production. Students cannot register for thesis credits or begin Thesis work without this Committee being in place.

Preparing for the Second Year Review

As part of the Second Year Review and before the end of the spring semester of their second year (or their 4th semester), students are required to present the work and research completed during their second year, a resume, and a draft of their Project-in-Lieu-of-Thesis proposal to their committee at a scheduled review meeting. The proposal shall include:

- a presentation of work completed in the second year
- an artist statement
- an outline of the proposed thesis project research and methodology
- a discussion of the student's development thus far at the University
- an annotated bibliography of resources in MLA that inform the project

After reviewing the work presented and questioning the student about his/her work, the committee will meet privately and vote for one of the following options:

1. Pass and allow the student to proceed with his/her research work according to schedule
2. Re-review the student and require adjustments to the student's program.
3. Dismiss the student from the program based on unsatisfactory completion of the first-year review (With the dismiss option, there is no re-review.).

The committee will then meet with the student for approximately 20 minutes to discuss the committee's decision and give the student critical feedback on their work.

In addition to the verbal discussion with the student, the chair of the supervisory committee reports the results to the student and to the Graduate Information Coordinator in the form of a letter in a timely fashion, preferably within two weeks of the review, but no later than the end of the semester.

Option 2: RE_REVIEW for SECOND YEAR STUDENTS

The Committee Chair reports the results in a letter to Graduate Information Coordinator, the Director of Graduate Studies and the Director immediately. The re-review must take place prior before the start of summer term in the middle of May. The time and date of the re-review must be stated in the Second Year Review letter submitted to the SA+AH graduate office. The format of the re-review will be the same as the first review.

There are only two options for the re-review. The Supervisory Committee in consultation with SA+AH Graduate Handbook the director will make one of the following decisions for the re-review:

1. to allow the student to continue,
2. to dismiss the student from the program, based on their packet and/or academic performance.

If a student passes the re-review, the student is verbally notified at the re-review by the Supervisory Committee. The Committee Chair also informs the SAAH, Director, the Graduate Information Coordinator and the Director of Graduate Studies of the result. The Committee Chair then reports the results to the student in a written letter.

If a student fails the re-review, the student is verbally notified at the end of the re-review by the chair of the Supervisory Committee. The Committee Chair also informs the Graduate Information Coordinator and the Director of Graduate Studies and the Director of the result. The Director or Assistant Director (if applicable) meets face-to-face with student to discuss the results and the student is dismissed from the program.

First Semester: Third Year

MFA Requirements for Graduation

It is the responsibility of students to keep track of the requirements of your degree and the course you have taken and those you plan to take. It is also recommended that candidates regularly check with the Director of Graduate Studies to be sure that all course requirements for graduation have been met or will be met in the final semester. The student and the DGS keep track of past and present courses via the Graduate Course Tracking Sheets on Canvas (See Appendix Q) for a sample tracking sheet.) Petitions of degree requirements and transfer of credit from previously attended graduate programs in which you did not earn a degree will be considered by the Graduate School no later than the term preceding the one in which the candidate is to receive the degree. Petitions must be discussed with the faculty in the student's area of study, the DGS and the Graduate Information Coordinator.

Deadlines

The Graduate School issues deadline dates in order to prepare for graduation for each term. The dates can be found on the Graduate School Calendar website <https://catalog.ufl.edu/graduate/calendar/>. These deadlines are firm. Additional deadline dates that support the Graduate School and the MFA Exhibition are issued by the College of The Arts Admissions Office and the School of Art and Art History.

Degree Application

All MFA degree candidates must apply on line through ONE.UF. Care must be taken to cite the correct degree, year and term.

MFA Project in Lieu of Thesis

The MFA Project in Lieu of Thesis is a two-semester project that culminates in a final exhibition of the student's work and a written expository report on the research and the work in the MFA exhibition. Both the project and the report are required of all studio graduate students. It is expected that all work done for the Project in Lieu of Thesis exhibition will be of high quality and executed during the period that the student has signed up for thesis credits at the University of Florida. The project will be a special effort or activity specifically associated with the work done during the semesters of Project In Lieu of Thesis Credit, not merely a selection of works from classes completed at the University.

The student in consultation with the Chair of the Supervisory Committee, must discuss with the Gallery Director and Gallery personnel, the work that is to be included in the MFA prior to the semester in which the student graduates. Guidelines will be provided in the beginning of the fall semester of the third year.

The student's Supervisory Committee will meet at least three times during the terms the student is working on their thesis project. It is strongly suggested that the student meet more than the three required meetings and individually with their chair and committee members to discuss the process of the working being created for the MFA Thesis Exhibition. At the first meeting in the semester prior to graduation, the committee will make suggestions and approve the project proposal. The second and third meetings will be held to discuss the thesis work and rough draft of the Project in Lieu of Thesis report.

Second Semester: Third Year

Project in Lieu of Thesis

In the second semester of the third year, the student works to install their work as part of an MFA exhibition with their peers. Depending on the number of students in each third year MFA cohort, one or two MFA exhibitions are planned. Moving into the final semester, the student has already consulted with the galley and been assigned space and discussed the parameters for the installation of their work. Installation must be arranged with the Gallery Director and professionalism is expected during install and de-install. Students must work within allotted installation times.

Project Report

Each student is responsible for conforming to regulations governing format, final term procedures and dates for submitting their project report to his/her Supervisory Committee. The form of the report must be agreed upon by the Supervisory Committee Chair and must include a visual description of the project. Each project report must include an abstract about their project in lieu of thesis. The Chair of the Supervisory Committee and all the members must approve the abstract. See Appendix O for the appropriate abstract (project format).

Project Report Responsibilities of the Chair and the Supervisory Committee

It is the responsibility of the Chair of the Supervisory Committee to review the initial rough drafts of the report with the student and make suggestions for improvement before the report is distributed to the Supervisory Committee.

The student then presents the final copy of the report to the other member(s) of the Supervisory Committee for final review before the Oral Defense. It should require no more than two meetings to make additional suggestions to the student and to approve the report.

The Project Report must be defended and in final form prior to submission.

Preparation for Oral Defense

Students, in consultation with their Committee Chairs, should schedule their oral defense to allow time to make all corrections and meet final submission deadlines.

Oral Defense

Upon submission of the final copy of the project report to the Supervisory Committee, the student will schedule an oral defense date with their Supervisory Committee Chair. The oral defense will be a formal presentation of the Project in Lieu of Thesis work. The oral defense should be scheduled at least one week before the final project report is due in the SA+AH office to allow time for the student to make any corrections that were suggested at their defense and to meet final submission deadlines. All members of the Committee on file with Graduate school must participate physically, virtually or by phone. The oral defense is open to the public. The Supervisory Committee Chair will invite other members of the graduate faculty to attend.

The student will give a formal presentation that addresses the progress of their research. It is expected that they will demonstrate how the creative project relates to their past work and how the research problem has been defined, researched, and resolved in the works presented.

After the presentation, members of the Committee will ask the student questions pertaining to their work, open a forum for questions from the audience, and then confer in private to accept the project, to require further changes, or to reject it.

Upon successful completion of the Oral Defense, a Final Examination Form will be signed by the Supervisory Committee and forwarded to the SA+AH for the Director's signature.

Final Submission of Project in Lieu of Thesis Report

Unless other procedures are identified and communicated by the COTA Senior Associate in Graduate Studies, after final approval of changes by the supervisory committee, and no later than the date specified, candidates must submit the following materials to the COTA Graduate Office:

- Supervisory Committee Approved Electronic File (PDF)
- Fully signed Final Examination Report Form and signature page

These documents are then forwarded to the Dean's Office and the copies will be kept in the Architecture and Fine Arts Library.

A FEW WAYS TO SHARE INFORMATION IN THE SA+AH:THE “ARTGRADS -L” LISTSERV

Every current and incoming SA+AH grad student UFL email has been collected into the ARTGRADS -L Listserv. This is one of two listservs that receive regular grad student email announcements from the SA+AH graduate office. The “Grad List” is posted to by faculty, grad and administrative staff only to list CRITICAL registration and business communications. At this stage of preparing for the new term, you should keep an eye out for messages sent to this list and from the saahgradoffice@arts.ufl.edu carefully. This is an important step in helping you help yourself.

THE “ARTGRADS-SHARE-L” LISTSERV

Every current and incoming SA+AH grad student UFL email is also collected into the ARTGRADS-SHARE-L Listserv. This is the second of our two SA+AH grad listservs. The “Grad Share” is posted to by faculty, grad and administrative staff to list job or financial opportunities, scheduled events and other useful grad communications within your peer community.

PLEASE NOTE: the SA+AH grad office is not a resource for distributing personal contact information. However, in instances where you are reaching out to your peers seeking roommates, and other “life as a graduate student” resource connections, you may provide your email contact information in a relevant listserv posting for the “Grad Share” that might enlist a response from your graduate peers.

Creative Photography

Photography Area Graduate Studio Visit Criteria

Graduate Program: Creative Photography

Preparing for Mid-Term Studio Visit/ End of Semester Studio Visit (2011-2012) DESCRIPTION

The studio visit is an opportunity for each student on the graduate program in Photography to present their work as 'exhibition-ready' to faculty members from both the photography area and the student's committee. This is an important opportunity to gain feedback on studio production from invited faculty, curators, graduate student colleagues, and the area faculty. It is an open process, and anyone is welcome to attend and participate.

This is a formal studio visit, where your work presented is installed as it would be exhibited. While this work would be 'in-progress,' this is an important event in which the visual, material, and conceptual choices you are making for your work can be examined and reviewed as a comprehensive, exhibition-ready presentation. This studio visit is also a rehearsal for both your end of semester review (conducted by your thesis committee members) and your year-end review (or thesis defense). During these studio visits you will receive questions and comments from your faculty and colleagues. You should prepare to take notes or keep a record of these comments and questions for your own review and to help inform the changes and additions you will make with your work. It will be likely that these questions and comments will be addressed in your subsequent committee reviews, and that your faculty members will expect you to have considered the input you have received and acted upon these comments with new research, material choices, and altered visual strategies.

PREPARATION Below is a checklist to help you prepare for your studio visit:

1. Prepare a statement that you can hand out to faculty members and use yourself as a script or reminder of the key points (research, practice, objectives) of your project. This statement should include the following:

A: What research are you conducting to help inform the concept and practice of your work? Select 1-2 visual resources and 1-2 theoretical resources that you have actively been researching in the construction of your work/ideas/ installation/ photographs/ media. How are the visual resources connected or influencing your own work? How have the theoretical resources/ research helped (are helping) you to designate a vocabulary and context for presenting your work. You might consider bringing some examples of your research to share with faculty, however the key example of your research is in your presentation and in your work.

B: What technical, material, and process choices have you made in the construction of this work. For example, if you are appropriating imagery, what are the sources from which you are appropriating the material and why is this important to your project. If you are experimenting with the paper, projection, or digital display of your work what kind of experiments/ tests have you conducted and how have you made choices based on these tests to lead you into the work you are now exhibiting. How does the technology, materials, and processes employed in your work help you achieve a set of formal and conceptual objectives for your work?

2. Make enough time for yourself to create an 'exhibition' situation for the presentation of your work. Your work should resemble how you would wish it to function and appear in an exhibition venue. There is no requirement that this venue must be a gallery or museum, however the venue you use to present your work should be carefully considered/ researched/ selected and should be considered as part of the meaning/ formal criteria in your work.

3. If you are using A/V or other forms of equipment that need to operate or 'run' in order to be exhibition-ready, you should be sure to test your equipment and installation (files, computers, DVDs, lights, power, etc) before your review and to have this equipment turned on and running several minutes before your review to insure that it functions properly.

4. The manner through which you conduct yourself in the review can have a significant impact on the response to your work. You should allow yourself enough time to prepare yourself and your work for review. You should allow yourself time to draft, edit, and rewrite the statement outlined above. You should treat the review as if you were meeting with a curator, editor, critic, or collector to whom you wish to clearly impress with your work.

5. Inform your committee members well in advance of your critique, so that you can schedule your critique at a time when they can attend.

Suggested Additional Information

The following information is suggested by the Office of the Provost and the Dean of Students:

- Critical dates for exams or other work
- Class Demeanor Policy

Class demeanor policies may include reference to excused/unexcused absences, late arrivals, cell phones, late assignments, food/drink. The following is an example you may use as a guide for creating your own demeanor policy:

“Students are expected to assist in maintaining a classroom environment that is conducive to learning. In order to assure that all students have the opportunity to gain from time spent in class, unless otherwise approved by the instructor, students are prohibited from engaging in any form of distraction. Inappropriate behavior in the classroom shall result, minimally, in a request to leave class.”

SUBMISSIONS:

- All graduate students complete written documents, submitted as one PDF: a thesis, dissertation, or project in lieu of thesis.
- And, all students must pass a formal, oral defense before submitting the document. At the defense, faculty verifies your completion of significant milestones by signing prepared forms. (A final written defense is part of some grad degrees, as shared by your area advisors.)

Project in Lieu of Thesis graduates create a written document in ADDITION to your exhibition or any final term project.

- Students completing this final document upload their Project in Lieu of Thesis PDF papers into the Canvas eLearning site “COTA Graduation”.

Thesis and Dissertation papers are submitted to the UF Editorial Office at the following link:

<http://graduateschool.ufl.edu/about-us/offices/editorial/>

- Theses/Dissertations are uploaded to the Graduate School. The Editorial office guidelines, deadlines, and checklists are linked above, and explained in full detail on their website. Students upload the PDF document TWICE (first review & final review).

The Graduate School editors will send your committee chair and you confirmation when this has been received, emails with additional details for completing all steps, and a final confirmation that the document has been accepted as final and forwarded for publication.

All projects, dissertations, and theses are online in the University of Florida George A. Smathers Libraries.

First Year Studio Review Process

About:

The first year studio review is a fact-finding review made of a committee who reports to the SA+AH DGS-Studio who reports to the Graduate Coordinator and School Director.

How:

The SA+AH Director will establish committees by or before midterm in the spring with at least one member of the area represented for each student. One member will be designated the coordinator. The students will be sent an e-mail after Spring Break from the DGS-Studio who will provide students with guidelines and deadlines.

When:

The faculty and students must meet the stated deadline. All members must be present. If a replacement is needed for any reason, you will be notified by the DGS-Studio as soon as a replacement is made.

Where:

Reviews may take place in any of the following: studios, critique spaces, empty classrooms, seminar rooms, conference rooms, or other appropriate locations. Please work diligently to determine and reserve a location promptly and communicate this to your committee coordinator. If students need assistance or have questions, please contact the committee coordinator.

Committee Coordinator's responsibilities:

Making initial contact with the student to commence scheduling of the review, running the meeting, filing the review forms in a timely fashion.

Student's responsibilities:

Communicating effectively and timely with your committee coordinator to schedule your review. Create a professional presentation for the review and schedule the location of the review in consultation with the First Year Review committee coordinator.

Statement:

Students must submit a one-page statement, which expresses the ideas that inform the conceptual, formal and technical development in their work to each member of the review committee no less than two working days before the review. In addition to the electronic submission, students must provide each committee member a copy of their statement at the review and one additional copy to be submitted with the committee report.

Presentation:

The presentation should include an explanation of the work the student has produced and researched during the first year of study (conceptual, formal, technical developments as applicable) as well as their future direction for production and research while in the program (15-20 minutes). Students may provide context for current work by presenting work prior to attending UF, however the focus shall be on the creative activity and research since arriving at UF. Students should provide examples of actual works created.

Questions:

After the presentation, the committee may ask a series of questions pertaining to the year of study and works presented. This is not a critique of the work rather a review and information gathering session.

Caucus:

The committee will caucus to discuss the review without the student present and ultimately vote one of the following outcomes. The committee coordinator is responsible for reporting the results of the vote to the Graduate Coordinator.

Notification:

Students will receive unofficial notification of the results of the review following the review. All students will receive official continuance notification in their graduate mailbox from the School Director and Graduate Coordinator prior to the end of the spring semester.

Outcomes: The three possible outcomes (based on majority vote) of this discussion are as follows:

OPTION 1: PASS

The student's performance meets the standards expected during the first year of graduate study.

OPTION 2: RE-REVIEW

The student's performance does not meet the standards expected in the graduate program to pass on to the second year at this time.

Note: The re-review must take place by or before the end of the first week of classes of the following semester (fall/spring).

OPTION 3: DISMISS

To dismiss the student from the program based on unsatisfactory completion of the first year review (no re-review).

I will be responsible for acquainting myself with the SA+AH Graduate Student Handbook and understand that I am responsible for following the University, College and School policies, procedures and deadlines therein.

I understand that to facilitate my academic progress, I must check my UF e-mail account frequently and clean out excess mail as to be sure I receive critical information, communication and dates. I will also be sure to check holds regularly during pre-registration and registration to facilitate the registration process. I understand that complications due to holds, illegible or incomplete registration forms WILL cause a delay in my registration, and this may lead to late registration and consequently the chance of losing a seat in a course and late fees.
