Course Description

Painting/Drawing/Printmaking Graduate Seminar: Imaging Otherwise as Making and Practice is an opportunity to explore one's personal history, art historical lineage in the context of the spaces you occupy in contemporary art. Graduates will be asked to Imagine Otherwise by investigating, questioning, subverting and critiquing personal and structural influences on the conceptual and formal aspects of studio practice. Through experiments, reading, self-reflection and discussion we will explore radical imagining around research, concept, and making.

Course Objectives

- Demonstrate a rigorous studio practice
- Create a record and reflection of all time spent on your art practice this semester
- Claim a position in contemporary art and how your practice is situated in relation to the field
- Connect to current issues, critiques, and definitions within the art world and culture at large
- Professional Practice strategies for navigating the contemporary art world.

Course Structure

This seminar meets once-a-week on Tuesdays. (Therefore, your Thursdays could be time set aside for research and making). Classes will serve as a collaborative time to share, to discuss, think, and speak about how we engage conceptual, formal, contemporary, historical issues around art. Our weekly class time will include seminar prompts for creating work, sharing ideas, readings, sharing our studio process, discussions, presentations, studio time, peer to peer interactions, critiques, visiting artists and studio visits.

Seminar Projects

You will be given a series of assignments in this course that are meant to prompt self reflection, ideation, experimentation, and creation. Seminar projects are scaffolded, meaning they build upon the previous assignments. Through each prompt you will gain insight into your practice, conceptual framework and space within contemporary art and art history.

4 Seminar Prompts

- Personal Archive
- Artistic Timeline
- Experiments
- Group Presentations

Studio Journal/Journal Share

Keeping a studio journal can be greatly beneficial to gaining insight into your practice. In this course you will keep a journal documenting what you made, time spent in the studio, and reflecting on your progress and struggles. Make your studio your own however it must consist of a precise time log and a short reflection (50-100 words) for each studio session.

Studio Visits

Studio visits are a major part of the grad school experience. Through this course you will gain insight into best practices on having successful meaningful studio visits. You sign up to have at least one studio visit with me this semester. You will also be required to have studio visits with at least three different faculty members this semester as well.

Area Critique

Area critiques are a moment when PDP faculty, students, staff, and members of the community can gather to view and discuss the progression of your work and practice. Area crits are an opportunity to get insights from people with a variety of perspectives, experiences and areas of expertise and research. Please be prepared to speak about your work and practice and prepare an articulate artist statement.

Peer Mentors/Mentees

First, second and third year students will be grouped together as peer mentors/mentees. We will set aside class time to have peer mentor sessions. During a session you are free to discuss any aspect of being a graduate student. sounding board, proofreader, and informal consultant. Peer mentorships are mutually beneficial relationships that enhance learning and growth.

Visiting Artists Calendar Fall 2023

Course Communication

We will communicate through a variety of methods in this course. With all forms of communication you are expected to engage your classmates/colleagues and I in a respectful and professional manner. Any type of unwanted or harassing communication will not be tolerated.

This course will have an accompanied Canvas page which will house assignments, grades, the daily schedule and other resources. Therefore, you are expected to check Canvas and your school email on a regular basis. You are responsible for anything posted to Canvas or sent via email.

Modes of communication in this course:

Canvas

UF Email

Google Suite

Zoom

Text (*For collaborative projects students may choose to communicate via text. No one should feel pressured to share their phone number. Please use the method of communication that is most comfortable for you.)

Discussion & Participation

The class dynamic depends on your energy, initiative, attitude, productivity, and willingness to get involved in group discussion and critiques. Participation is a significant portion of your grade and includes being present and engaged in all meetings as well as the depth of your feedback. Each project will begin with a variety of text, imagery, video, or audio and lectures. You may be asked to prepare questions / or a written response, you will always be expected to participate in the discussion of the assigned material. Further details will be delivered at each project introduction.

Critique

A core objective of this course is practicing the art of critique and at the end of each project there will be a live critique. Critiques will provide an opportunity to work through research, explain experimentation, and understand how your work is received by an audience. Ultimately, you will learn how to offer articulate explanations for your choices. Equally important in critique is your ability to give constructive responses to your peers' work. It is a requirement of this course that you participate fully in these group conversations. As a member of the art community, you have an obligation to speak candidly, honestly, and without unnecessary "prompting" so that your unique ideas can enrich the class.

Grading

All projects will be graded via assignments on canvas, and will be available to see through grades within two weeks of the due date.

Late Work

Assignments are to be submitted on the date due in the delivery mode specified; late assignments will be penalized 10% per day late. Projects will not be accepted after five days past the due date.

*Please note that a C- or below is not an acceptable grade for any course in which a 2.0 GPA (or C) is required, i.e., any course in the major.

* All grades are tabulated based on your assignment numerical grade (which is ultimately figured into a percentage) and your participation. You must speak with your instructor within one week of receiving a grade in order to dispute an assignment grade.

Grading Scale

A.....94-100

Exceptional work; all criteria of assignment have been surpassed in a distinguished manner and solutions to problems presented exhibit a depth of understanding. In addition, student is engaged in exceptional studio practice, which includes active research, looking up artists recommended, asking relevant questions about other artists' works or ideas, and being thoroughly engaged in course content.

A-.....90-93

Well-presented, superior work: all criteria of assignment were surpassed in a distinguished manner (including exceptional studio practice highlighted above). Minimal improvements could be made to the project overall.

B+.....87-89

Very good work: all criteria of assignment were surpassed, minor changes could be considered and executed to bring the piece together. Studio practice was exceptional.

B.....84-86

Very good work: above average solutions and clear potential. Most criteria of assignment were surpassed with some improvements to be made. Execution was well done. Studio practice during the Project was commendable.

B-.....80-83

Good work: most criteria of assignment were met. Work showed promise with a few significant improvements to be made. Studio practice was adequate.

C+.....77-79

Slightly above average work: most of the criteria of the assignment were met. The work is not yet a unified whole or cohesive statement, yet effort was made. Studio practice was adequate, but could be more reflective and thoughtful.

C.....74-76

Average work: the assignment directions were followed and the requirements were met in a relatively routine way. Slippage in levels of craft, originality and presentation. Studio practice was adequate, but could be more reflective and thoughtful.

C-.....70-73

Slightly below average work: the assignment directions were followed and the requirements were minimally met, but there is much room for developing assignment's concepts further. The level of craft and breadth and depth of idea development needs improvement. There is some evidence of studio practice, but the quality and quantity is lacking.

D+.....67-69

Below average work: an attempt to solve the problem was made, but there is much room for improving skills and developing concepts further. The criteria of the assignment are barely met. Basic craftsmanship skills have been neglected and there is a lack of breadth and depth of idea development. There is minimal evidence of studio practice, but the quality and quantity are lacking.

D.....64-66

Inadequate, below average work: the requirements of the assignment are not addressed. The execution of the work is careless and represents an incomplete effort. Work is substandard.

D-.....60-63

Unacceptable work and effort: the requirements of the assignment are not addressed. The execution of the work is careless and represents an incomplete effort. Work is substandard.

E.....below 60

Unacceptable work and effort: the work submitted is inadequate; the requirements of the problem are not addressed. The piece represents careless and/ or incomplete effort. Work is substandard or the assignment was not submitted.

Honor Code

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” Honor Code Process

The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Conduct Code. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Attendance Policy

Participation in class is necessary to achieve the course objectives. Attendance is taken at the beginning of each class. Students are expected to arrive on time, stay for the entirety of class and be prepared to participate in all activities. You will be considered tardy if you arrive after class start time. Three late arrivals or early self-dismissals will count as an absence. An unexcused absence does not constitute an extension of an assignment. If you show up to class unprepared, you may be asked to leave, which will count as an unexcused absence.

Attendance is your responsibility. You get three unexcused absences before it affects your grade (use them wisely). After three unexcused absences, your grade will drop by full letter. Your participation grade will drop a full letter after two unexcused absences. Following that, each unexcused absence will drop your participation grade by another letter. Six unexcused absences will result in failing the course.

For any planned absences, in a situation that allows for an excused absence, you must inform me as early as possible prior to class. For all unplanned absences because of an emergency situation, you should contact me as soon as conditions permit.

Students must be present for the final critique in order to receive credit for their final project. Appropriate documentation from the student health service must be obtained for medical excuses. Please look at your calendar at the beginning of the semester to see if you have any commitments (for example, religious holidays) that conflict with classes, due dates, or critiques. If you do have a conflict, contact the instructor in advance.

Registered students who do not attend at least one of the first two class meetings for the course, and who have not contacted the department to indicate their intent, may be dropped from the course.

Health & Safety Guidelines

The School of Art + Art History Health and Safety Policy handbook provides policy and training for health and safety. Students must follow handbook policies which can be found here.

You will receive health and safety training for this course. Afterwards you must sign a document confirming your training, no later than the third class meeting.

*Use of aerosol products (such as fixative, spray paint) may only be used in the designated spray booth in FAC 211A.

Fixatives, Mists, Adhesives, Spray Paint

- Both permanent and workable spray fixatives used to fix drawings contain toxic solvents. There is high exposure by inhalation to these solvents because the products are sprayed in the air, often right on a desk or easel. Additionally, you can be inhaling the plastic particles that comprise the fixative itself.
- Spray mists are particularly hazardous because they are easily inhaled. If the paint being sprayed contains solvents, then you can be inhaling liquid droplets of the solvents. In addition, the pigments are also easily inhaled, creating a much more dangerous situation than applying paint by brush.

- Aerosol spray paints have an additional hazard besides pigments and solvents. They contain propellants, usually isobutanes and propane, which are extremely flammable and have been the cause of many fires. Other aerosol spray products such as retouching sprays, spray varnishes, etc. also contain solvents.

Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center by visiting the Disability Resource Center's page found here.

Please share your accommodation letter and discuss your access needs with me, as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluations

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

Content Warning

In this course, we will cover content and materials that some may find difficult. It is important that in an art course we do not shy away from engaging with materials that may be controversial or challenging. I will do my best to give you advance notice when specific materials or content covered may contain images, language or perspectives that some may find difficult. I encourage you to reach out to me if you are struggling with the course materials. In class, if you need to step away for a period of time as we are covering particular content, you may do so without penalty, but I ask that you remember that you are responsible for any information covered in your absence.
