Course Policies

Attendance Policy, Class Expectations, and Make-Up Policy

The instructor is responsible for communicating the specific details of what percentage of your grade (if any) will be assigned to participation, and how class participation will be measured and graded. The UF Digital Worlds Institute is committed to the idea that regular student engagement is essential to successful scholastic achievement. No matter, if the class is held in a traditional classroom, an online classroom, or a combination of the two, interaction with your peers and the instructor, will empower you to greater achievement.

Make-Up Policy

According to UF official standards, I can excuse the following absences with proper documentation. Here are all things that I excuse and require as far as documentation for this class.

Provide documentation regarding the following:

- i. Death of a family member (obituary, funeral service program, death cert.)
- ii. Death of a friend (obituary, funeral service program, death cert.)
- iii. Emergency (police report, documentation from medical provider)
- iv. Family Emergency (police report, hospital documentation)
- v. Hospitalization – Psychological (hospital documentation)
- vi. Hospitalization – Physical (hospital documentation)
- vii. Medical Emergency/Illness (documentation from medical provider)
- viii. Significant Weather (insurance documentation, repair documentation)

These all align with the University Care Area Protocols. <https://care.dso.ufl.edu/instructor-notifications/>

Any reasons not listed above or reasons without official documentation WILL NOT BE EXCUSED.

Class Expectations

IT IS EXPECTED THAT STUDENTS TAKING THIS COURSE HAVE AN AVERAGE TO ABOVE AVERAGE KNOWLEDGE OF GRAPHIC DESIGN AND INTERMEDIATE LEVEL OF DIGITAL VISUALIZATION SKILLS. Poor Design will be heavily penalized.

Attendance Policy

The instructor expects that all students attend class with their personal computers. This course will require many in-class demos. Attending class on a cell phone will not be counted as full attendance or participation points. Students may be required to screen share during in-class demos and activities.

EXAMPLE: In our course, attendance is mandatory. You are required to attend the class on time to receive full credit for attendance as well as participate in the class by asking questions, answering questions, or engaging in the media in other forms during the live class. Attendance and participation will be jointly graded on Canvas using the Attendance tool. By arriving on time to class you will receive 50% of your grade. By participating/engaging throughout that class, you will receive the other 50% of your grade for that day. If you arrive late to class you will not receive your initial 50% of your grade for that day.

In general, acceptable reasons for absence from or failure to participate in class include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements (e.g., judging trips, field trips, professional conferences), military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition, or debate. Students must provide appropriate documentation in advance of the absence when possible. No documentation is needed for an absence due to religious observation.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>

Course Modality

Course modality is the way in which a class is offered/delivered to students by the instructor. All students, regardless of the modality, will achieve the same learning objectives. Students can check their class schedules or reference the top of this syllabus to see the format(s) available for each of their individual classes. The modality of a course does not vary during a semester, and students are expected to adhere to the instructor-defined attendance guidelines for that format. Use the guide below to familiarize yourself with the various ways classes are offered at the Digital Worlds Institute.

Know Your Course Modality

Face-to-Face (F2F)	Online Asynchronous (OA)	Online Synchronous (OS)
Students attend class F2F in a classroom. Class sessions may be recorded for students to view later.	Students watch the posted recording of the class session or studio recording online at their convenience.	Students participate in a class in real-time through Zoom.
Hybrid refers to a course that is partially Face-to-Face (F2F) and Online Asynchronous (OA)
In a HyFlex Model , students have the flexibility of moving across all three modalities as needed or desired.

Course Technology

The students will be required to have access to and use a personal computer with access to the Internet. Word editing software will be required for written assignments.

The University of Florida and Digital Worlds requires that students have access to and ongoing use of a laptop/mobile computer for DIG courses in order to be able to function in the current learning environment. Digital Worlds requires each DAS major's laptop computer to meet certain minimum specs for heavy graphics use, the requirements documented below must be met. <https://digitalworlds.ufl.edu/programs/ba-in-digital-arts-sciences/technology-requirements/>.

Course Communications

Students can communicate directly with the instructor regarding the course material through the course management system (CANVAS) using "Canvas Mail".

Course Recordings

Our class sessions may be audio-visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

Creation of Original Content Ethics

AI

AI is a powerful tool that is changing the industry. AI generative art is allowed in this course and sometimes is encouraged. However, you need to proceed with caution. This course is designed to teach and access your studio, editing, and video production abilities. If a computer or AI does the work for you, then accessing "your" video production and editing abilities is nearly impossible. Therefore, points may be forfeited or lost in specific areas of the rubric when incorrectly using AI for assignments. Acceptable uses of AI are for purposes not closely related to Video production tasks. You can use AI in this class for coding, scripting, design, concepts, script writing, patterns for textures, and generating audio. Using AI for anything else visual should be brought to the instructor's attention before starting on the assignment. Always source and give credit to the AI tool used to create the work. Failure to do so will result in 0 total scores. Multiple offenses will result in University level plagiarism.

ETHICS

For original projects and all assignment deliverables, students should remember that representations of acts of violence, coarse and offensive language, sexual behavior, bodily function and ability, neurodiversity, and personal identity are likely to cause extreme audience response, regardless of the creator's intentions. In addition, the recreation of such actions and subjects for fictional purposes may unintentionally traumatize or negatively impact those who collaborate in the creation of the images. While the university encourages students to explore themes and tell stories that may include this difficult subject matter, they should be cautioned against modes or styles of representation that might be considered unnecessarily offensive or potentially triggering. Instructors, faculty, and university administrators reserve the right to not show or share any student work they feel is inappropriate for their classroom or public exhibition, as there may be concerns about the impact of such work on the community. We encourage students to consult with their faculty when producing work that might be considered controversial, and to err on the side of being cautious when it comes to making decisions about a project's content - in other words, make the PG-13 version of your story, not the R version, and certainly not the "unrated" version. This is also to help students understand that most professional creative situations have strict guidelines and limitations on such content and how it is produced: your ability to tell stories effectively with "less" is a strong professional skill that will aid in the dissemination of your work to a broader audience.

If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Class Demeanor

Students are expected to arrive to class on time and behave in a manner that is respectful to the instructor and to fellow students. Please avoid the use of cell phones and restrict eating to outside of the classroom. Opinions held by other students should be respected in discussion, and conversations that do not contribute to the discussion should be held at minimum, if at all.

Students Requiring Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.
