Office Hours via Zoom: by appointment

Course Description

This course explores popular music in the United States including its history, styles, composers, artists, and genres. In this course, students will examine the characteristics of popular music, develop listening skills, identify key musical features, and study the cultural and historical context of American popular music.

Course Objectives

Within this course, students will achieve the following goals:

- Identify and recognize American popular musical styles, genres, performers, and composers
- Develop music listening skills
- Develop critical thinking skills in relation to American popular music in its social environment
- Draw connections between the political, historical, cultural, economic, and social issues with the development of popular music by Americans
- Investigate and analyze how race and oppression factored into the development and dissemination of American popular music
- Write scholarly essays with the correct grammar and formatting

Course Structure

The course is organized around a series of modules that explore the place of music in relation to social and political forces in American history and popular culture. There is no expectation of previous musical or music theory study for this course. Each week will have a set of modules, accessible through e-Learning (Canvas). These modules will include instructions on readings in the textbook, listening examples, links to online discussions, PDFs, and weekly quizzes. Deadlines are clearly posted in the Canvas calendar and on each assignment and no late work will be accepted.

Readings

Required Text (and see below for required listening which requires purchase)

Larry Starr and Christopher Waterman, eds., American Popular Music: From Minstrelsy to MP3, 6th ed. New York: Oxford University Press, 2021. ISBN: 9780197543313

The sixth edition contains new material and a completely re-written chapter and is therefore the required edition. A previous edition will not be sufficient. The book is available in the UF Bookstore or online (use express shipping). Not having the required text and music downloads in hand will not be an acceptable reason for an extension on the first week's deadlines. Oxford University Press, the publisher for the text has a website with supplemental materials that you may find useful:

<https://global.oup.com/ushe/product/american-popular-music-9780197543313?cc=us&lang=en&>

Listening Examples

As I mentioned above, you MUST purchase the sixth edition of the text in order to receive the access code for the downloadable audio examples. Not having the audio examples will create a severe detriment on your ability to fully assimilate the material being discussed. You are welcome to access the songs through YouTube if they are available AND the correct versions.

To access the musical examples via the Oxford University Press (OUP) Dashboard, follow this link and enroll <https://oup.instructure.com/enroll/LFPP4N>

Set up your account and login, click on the course (MUH3025, Section 15322). Then click on the following: course content, view content, chapter number, streaming audio. If you click on the Listening Guides, OUP will guide you through the song with analysis in real time. Very helpful in understanding song forms!

Because music-listening is an important part of our class, it is important to do so attentively, or “critically.” I recommend listening to each example more than once to fully integrate the musical aspects in relation to the text. You will be assessed on the listening examples, so you must integrate the music along with the explanations in the text of each required song.

Discussion Posts (25%)

In each weekly module, students are expected to post to the discussion board short (250-350 words) essay-type responses to weekly questions, which I will post on the board. The questions will be based on the readings and listening examples.

If you include citations, use the proper format, for example: (Starr, 21). Responses will be graded on a 10-point scale.

DISCUSSION POSTS ARE DUE EACH THURSDAY BY 11:59 P.M.

In addition, you must post a reply to at least TWO of your classmates’ discussion posts. These should be at least three lines in length and are due on the following Sunday at 11:59 p.m.

Failure to submit TWO response posts will automatically lose TWO points out of ten for the assignment as a whole.

Substantive Response Posts

This course relies heavily on your participation and contributions to the discussion board. In addition to observing etiquette guidelines, the following practices will help you earn the best grade possible and support the learning community.

- A "substantive" comment is one that provides something in addition to the initial post or previous comments.
- Posting a question that prompts clarification or leads the discussion deeper into the topic would be considered "substantive".
- Posts that are only "I agree" are not "substantive".

Weekly Tests (30%)

Quiz questions will be drawn from the readings and musical examples. They must be completed by the posted deadline. The quizzes vary in length and include both multiple choice and essay-type responses. Failure to complete the quiz by 11:59 p.m. on Sunday will result in a ZERO on the quiz with no chance for a make-up.

QUIZZES ARE DUE ON SUNDAY BY 11:59 P.M. OF EACH WEEK.

Final Project (20%)

See the instructions within Canvas for a complete description.
The final project will consist of either a paper, Power Point presentation, or CD compilation.

You MUST provide a bibliography of at least THREE scholarly sources (books or articles). NO WEBSITES. You CANNOT use the textbook as a source - I want you to provide NEW information, not just a condensed version of what we've learned in class. Also, no more than 15% of your paper/project should be quoted material. Again, it is supposed to be your research in your own words. You also need a title, and if you write a paper remember to double-space and provide citations. ALL submissions will be scanned through Turnitin - so make sure that you provide citations for ALL material that is not your own.

Final Exam (25%)

The final exam will consist of essay questions only. It will cover all the material from the entire semester.

Supplemental Material

While not required, I highly recommend that you watch the films in the “Supplemental Material” section of some of the modules. These films will greatly enhance your learning experience. Also, the publisher of the text, Oxford University Press, has a website with additional learning tools for students, found here: <http://www.oup.com/us/starr>

Late Work

Because this is an online class, late work will not be accepted. So please, be diligent about the due dates and times. Thanks!!

Grading

Assignments will be evaluated with a grading rubric. Comments will be made from the instructor or teaching assistant. Click on the rubric icon to open the rubric to view your grade and comments. Since this is an online class a large amount of learning and interactions happened through these comments. Please take note of them.

Office Hours

For office hours, please contact me to arrange a meeting. I will hold virtual office hours via Zoom.

Technology

If you experience a technical problem, please contact the e-Learning Help Desk first at helpdesk@ufl.edu. If it is an urgent problem, call them on the phone at (352) 392-4357. Take note of your Help Desk ticket number. Send me an email via the Canvas email system confirming that you have taken the advice of the Help Desk and provide me with your ticket number. If you have a computer malfunction, remember that there are computers available in the libraries across campus. Therefore, technology problems will not be an acceptable excuse for late or absent work. Also remember, you MUST be able to listen to the musical examples.

Accommodations for Disabilities

Students who require specific accommodations for a disability should speak with me within the first two weeks of class to ensure these accommodations are met. Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The office will provide documentation to the student who must provide this documentation to the instructor. Contact the Dean of Students Disability Resource Center here: <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>. If this applies to you, please give me your DRC letter at the beginning of the semester so that I can accommodate your needs.

Academic Integrity

According to UF's Student Conduct & Honor Code, plagiarism includes, but is not limited to:

1. "Quoting oral or written materials including but not limited to those found on the internet, whether published or unpublished, without proper attribution."
2. "Submitting a document or assignment which in whole or in part is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment not authored by the student."

This can include friend's papers, sources on the internet, or other sources that you do not cite. Any student who is discovered plagiarizing will receive a ZERO for that assignment and he or she will be reported to the Office of Student Conduct for further actions. To provide a quotation, please use this example: "Quote" (Baker, 21). That is, the quotation followed by the author's last name and the page number or numbers accessed, all enclosed in parenthesis.

NOTE: We do not allow Wikipedia as an academic source. If information is used from Wikipedia rather than the assigned textbook, the student will receive a ZERO for that assignment. As stated on the UF Student Conduct & Honor Code website, unauthorized use of materials includes: "3. Any materials or resources which the faculty member has notified the student or the class are prohibited."

Class Schedule

This schedule is tentative and subject to change. Any changes will be announced to the class via Canvas.
