COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed to develop technical range and performance skills through the study and production of dance repertory, specifically a new work choreographed by faculty member Xan Burley. Rehearsals are part of an ongoing process which begin at the top of the Spring semester and the work will culminate in the Spring Into Dance Faculty Concert performances April 18-21, 2024. Spacing, tech, and dress rehearsals will take place starting April 7 and cast members are required to attend all of these rehearsals.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- To expand the dancer's expressive and qualitative range of movement and performance.
- To develop musicality, dynamics, clarity and articulation in time and space.
- To expose the student to fresh approaches to the creative process.
- To provide the student with experiences that reinforce their discipline and strengthen their sense of responsibility within a pre-professional creative environment.
- To relate the student's work in technique class to a rehearsal environment.
- To gain experience and develop an understanding of how to work in an ensemble.
- To empower the person/dancer/ thinker/choreographer in each student.

STUDIO PROCEDURES

Proper Attire: You should come dressed ready for rehearsal and able to move freely and comfortably. Long pants are best and knee pads are highly suggested. It is recommended that you do not wear jewelry that will impede your ability to move or put you or others at physical risk.

Water + Food: Be sure to bring a water bottle to class. Make sure you eat a well-balanced meal or snack before and after rehearsal. Please do not eat while in class or chew gum.

Device Usage: The studio is a place for focus and engagement, a precious time to be screen-free. Please leave your cell phones, tablets, computers, iPads, etc. in your bags and on silent unless we are using them for rehearsal. If you need to be reachable by phone for any reason, let me know in advance of rehearsal. In addition, please remove wearable devices unless otherwise approved.

Lateness and leaving early are also detriments to our process. If you are late or leave early, it is your responsibility to communicate with the professor accordingly before/after class. Chronic tardiness or early departure will require an individual meeting with the instructor to discuss strategies moving forward.

COURSE EXPECTATIONS + GRADING

(1) INTEGRITY OF PRACTICE (50%)

It is important that we all make some simple agreements upon entering the studio. This facilitates a safe, open, and above all supportive space for taking risk. These guidelines will help:

- Be on time and do not leave early.
- Be warm: arrive to rehearsal ready to move with your body warm. If you need time to warm-up, please say so.
- Stay engaged: present body language that demonstrates openness and willingness to try new things.
- Respect each other and the space: listen, demonstrate patience, and work democratically with others in collaborative assignments. Be quiet when others are working or speaking.
- Integrate feedback: when feedback is given to you personally, to others, or to the entire group, it is important that you consider it as an opportunity to integrate it yourself.
- Review material: before arriving to rehearsal, review anything that we have worked on in previous rehearsals. Be prepared to call up any choreography created by that point. Use any down time to hone your material.
- Be bold: activate your creative ingenuity and do not be afraid to share your ideas.
- Lead and follow well: be a good leader and be a good follower. It is important to participate as a singular voice and as part of an ensemble. Teamwork is incredibly valuable.
- Be professional: you should always demonstrate your professionalism.

(2) PARTICIPATION (50%)

Participation in rehearsal is necessary! As a cast member, you are responsible for your own material, your presence, and your investment in the process. How you show up defines your presence and role in the performance. Think of this as an example of a professional rehearsal process. Be professional, positive, and hard-working at all times.

UF POLICIES

COURSE EVALUATIONS:

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Click here for guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via ufl.bluera.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students here.

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT:

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Honor Code. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

UNIVERSITY POLICY ON ACCOMMODATING STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

IN-CLASS RECORDING:

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A "class lecture" is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To "publish" means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
